WaitingCANVASSES
TO DECIDEBy DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

County canvassing boards meet Friday to determine the winner of the astonishingly tight race between two Lincoln district judges for nomination as chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

The eventual winner will emerge when an estimated 5,000 absentee ballots are added to the tabulation.

County canvasses will not necessarily be completed Friday, and results will not be official until the state canvassing board meets in Lincoln June 4.

Less Than 100

Unofficial tabulations by the two major wire services Thursday showed Judge Herbert Ronin less than 100 votes ahead of Judge Paul White.

The Associated Press, having compiled returns from all but one of the state's 2,172 precincts, gave Ronin a 67-vote margin.

United Press International, with all but two precincts counted, handed Ronin an 82-vote lead.

District Judge Clarence Beck of North Platte easily topped the 3-man field, piling up a 20,000-vote lead over the Lincolnites.

AP totals: Beck, 88,376; Ronin, 68,331; White, 68,264. UPI totals: Beck, 86,414; Ronin, 67,606; White, 67,524.

The two top candidates will be nominated.

GOP Closing Ranks

Meanwhile, Nebraska Republicans moved swiftly to close ranks following their primary contests.

GOP gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton announced that Reps. Phil Weaver and Ralph Beermann will meet together Saturday at his invitation.

Beermann defeated Weaver for the First District congressional nomination in the hot-test battle of the primary.

Seaton said the meeting—in Omaha—will be "to plan for a winning campaign this fall in Nebraska's new First District."

The two congressmen will travel together from Washington, Seaton said.

In Harrison, George Clarke promised Seaton "my unqualified support in the general election." Clarke was defeated by Seaton in the primary.

Eyen Pleads
No Contest;
Found Guilty

Dr. Michael Eyen pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) in Lancaster District Court Thursday to a felony assault charge in connection with the Victor Pechar acid-throwing incident.

The specific charge was assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. Acid was thrown on Pechar March 17.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele found Dr. Eyen guilty and deferred sentencing until May 24 pending an investigation by the adult probation officer.

Burned Severely

Pechar, 24, suffered severe burns to his face, one eye, his arms, chest and right leg.

Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas said Dr. Eyen was a participant in the crime as charged although law enforcement officers are convinced that he did not personally throw the acid.

The person who actually threw the acid has not been identified by investigators.

Dickeson Outlines
'Leaping Crisis'By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln lawyer Roger Dickeson, a self-styled "apostle of dissent," Thursday night bitterly criticized (1) Sen. Richard Marvel (2) Gov. Frank Morrison (3) First Congressional District voters who nominated Ralph Beermann and (4) editors of the Omaha World-Herald.

Dickeson, avowedly a "traditional" conservative and registered Republican, spoke at a public forum in the University of Nebraska Student Union.

He called Nebraska the victim of a "creeping crisis" that appeared to have become a "leaping crisis" with events this week.

These events were news of Dr. Robert L. Chasson's resignation as head of NU's physics department, as well as the revelation of 4 other professors' imminent departure, and Rep. Beermann's primary election victory over Rep. Phil Weaver, Dickeson explained.

(Dr. Chasson, in accepting a position for a higher salary at another institution, said he had lost confidence in the Legislature and no longer saw any future at NU.)

NU "Short-changed" Marvel, chairman of the Legislature Budget Committee, was blamed by Dickeson for "short-changing" the University.

Quoting from what Dickeson said was a "planted" story in the World-Herald, the lawyer said:

"Here is Marvel saying all we need is unity instead of drawing apart. I say this has the profundity of a teacup."

To another World-Herald story quoting Marvel as having said Nebraska needed only to "fit the pieces together," Dickeson said:

"He is a senator sitting on a buggy full of cream-of-wheat driving across the plains—it's pure pap."

Marvel Commended Dickeson commended Marvel for being a "thinker" and "one of the white hopes of the Legislature."

Marvel's trouble is, Dickeson said, "an acute attack of World-Heralditis."

He urged NU students to march on the Statehouse and picket the Budget Committee at the next session, carrying placards saying "Don't Short-Change the University."

He said neither Gov. Morrison nor any other governor could be an effective leader under Nebraska's non-partisan legislative system.

Nebraska's problems are 4-fold, Dickeson said: poor

—COUNTY CHAIRMAN—

Grant Reported
Top Demo PickBy DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Donald R. Grant, 37-year-old Lincoln attorney, is a likely choice for Democratic county chairman, The Star learned Thursday.

Lancaster County Democrats meet May 31 at 7 p.m. in the Cornhusker Hotel to name a slate of officers for the coming two years.

Frank Golden, chairman for the past 27 months, has not yet decided whether to seek re-election.

Support Grows

But, substantial support is already lined up behind Grant, a former deputy election commissioner and 1960 Democratic nominee for county attorney.

When contacted by The Star, Grant confirmed that he has been approached concerning the post and that he would accept if elected.

He pointed out that he has not taken sides in past differences between Gov. Frank Morrison and Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle.

"I have been approached by individuals who are vitally interested in the solidarity of the Democratic Party and who have given support in the past to both sides of what have purportedly been differing interests," Grant declared.

Not Committed

He said he has "not been identified exclusively with supporters of either interest" and has worked in the past with both Boyle and Morrison.

Golden has been strongly allied with Boyle. The slate of delegates elected last Tuesday to the post-primary county convention is understood to be largely composed of Morrison supporters.

Grant is acceptable to a number of key Morrison associates, it was learned.

Bowed Out

Two other Lincolnites have received consideration for the party post, but both have reportedly ruled themselves out. They are:

—Phil Sorensen, 28-year-old attorney and brother of the special counsel to the President.

—Jack Carey, 38, life insurance underwriter.

Grant is a Lincoln native and 1952 graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Law.

Golden, former U.S. marshal and past chief of the state cigarette tax division, defeated Sorensen by a 93 to 57 vote at the 1960 convention.

He has served as county chairman since his appointment in February 1960 upon the resignation of A. Clifford Anderson.

Meanwhile, the Lancaster County Republican picture remained unsettled.

Chairman Russell Brehm, party chief since 1958, has indicated that he may step down this year, but no formal decision has yet been announced.

Republicans meet May 31 at 10 a.m. in the Cornhusker.

Auto Wreck
Traps Man
Ten Hours

A 25-year-old airman was found in the wreck of his car in Oak Creek more than 10 hours after the car veered off U.S. 34 and sailed 65 feet through the air about 3 a.m. Thursday.

A-1c Cornelius Chadwell of Picktown, S.D., was taken to Veterans Hospital, where officials listed him in critical condition Thursday evening. He has a broken right leg and ankle, a dislocated right hip, and chest injuries.

State Trooper Vernon O'Neal said Chadwell told him he was blinded by bright lights as he drove toward Lincoln Thursday morning. His car went off the road, narrowly missing a bridge abutment, O'Neal said. It hit the far bank of the creek and landed on its wheels in two feet of water.

Chadwell tried to crawl up the 30-foot bank but couldn't make it. He cried for help but wasn't heard. He was finally found about 1:30 p.m. Thursday by two Burlington Railroad employees who were inspecting a railroad bridge 100 yards south of the highway bridge. They saw his submerged car and heard its feeble cry for help.

The accident happened near the junction of U.S. 34 and State 79 about 5 miles northwest of Lincoln.

Chadwell, now attached to the 69th Radar Squadron in Picktown, served at Lincoln Air Force Base from 1958 through 1961. He was on his way to Lincoln to visit his former wife and two children.

Orbit Date
Reset For Carpenter

Cape Canaveral (UPI)—The civilian space agency announced Thursday night that it has postponed the scheduled orbital mission of astronaut Scott Carpenter until next Tuesday because of technical difficulties in the space capsule's parachute mechanism.

The flight had been set for Saturday, but was called off at a late-evening meeting attended by Carpenter and officials of the Project Mercury man-in-space program Thursday night.

The federal space agency said the new postponement in the Carpenter shot stemmed from "irregularities" that had been noticed in the 3-orbit flight of fellow astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. last Feb. 20.

At first, it was believed the problems in the system, which automatically opens the capsule's giant parachutes to slow it for an ocean landing, were "random." But, scientists added, "further analysis of the data (from the Glenn flight) revealed possibilities of similar malfunctions" in the flight of Carpenter's "Aurora-VII" space capsule.

Loup And Rurals Set Power Talk

Representatives of Loup River Public Power District and rural districts will meet in a crucial negotiating session at Columbus May 25, The Star learned Thursday.

At issue are means by which pending power litigation can be settled out of the courts.

The meeting was requested by Loup.

Power leaders have been attempting to settle the suits for months, but negotiations hit a snag last February when Loup declined to accept terms agreed to by all other participants.

Loup then offered a counter-proposal last month.

Litigation centers about wholesale power rates and contracts.

It is generally conceded that if Loup and the rurals can reach an agreement, other participants will go long with the plan.

Also involved in the litigation are Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District and Consumers Public Power District.

Scores Of FBI
Agents AidingGo-Ahead For Public Hearings
Voted By McClellan Group

Washington (AP)—President Kennedy said Thursday the FBI and other government agencies are pressing their investigation to determine "whether any federal employee or member of Congress was involved" in the Billie Sol Estes scandal.

Kennedy, disclosing that 75 FBI agents have been assigned to the case, noted that action has already been taken against some Agriculture Department employees, and he told his news conference:

"This government is staying right on Mr. Estes' tail."

Kennedy's statement that the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service have been conducting "a very thorough investigation" of the tangled affairs of the Texas promoter followed the formal ordering of a full scale Senate probe.

The go-ahead for a series of public hearings that may reach into high echelons of both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations was voted at a 1½-hour closed-door session of the Senate's Permanent Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

How soon the hearings will start was left open, but McClellan was reported hoping to get them under way before the end of this month. Kennedy obviously was primed for what turned out to be the first question put at his news conference—the Billie Sol Estes affair.

The President twice emphasized that the 37-year-old Texan's financial manipulations were first brought to public attention when the federal government indicted him April 5 on fraud charges.

"This matter came to public attention because this administration indicted Mr. Estes, before a state agency in Texas or any place else moved," he said.

Kennedy conceded that of 2 million federal employees some succumb to pressure of those who attempt to influence them, "as a result of congressional intercession or as a result of special favors in the administration."

Highest Standards Is Goal. "Improprieties occur in a good many different kinds of life, whether it is labor, management, government," he said. "But we intend that the personnel of the United States government will meet the highest ethical standards possible, and when they do not, action will be taken."

"We do not wish to have anyone who serves, even indirectly or can be suspected of serving, two masters," he said. "So I think it is very clear that wherever this occurs we will take immediate action."

All information gathered by the FBI, the chief executive said, will be turned over to the McClellan and other congressional committees, "to Republican and Democratic councils of each committee."

Kennedy reiterated his faith in Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, who has been accused by some Republicans of foot-dragging in the Estes case, and put in a plug for his farm bill.

Full Confidence in Freeman. "I have the greatest confidence in Secretary Freeman," he said, adding that Freeman has "a matchless reputation."

He said the administration farm bill now before Congress "represents our best chance to do something about the kind of situation which resulted in Mr. Estes' manipulations."

Kennedy said the farm surpluses that piled up during the Eisenhower administration, when Ezra Taft Benson was secretary of agriculture, were one of the problems pointed up by the Estes case.

Kennedy suggested that agreement would not be reached any more rapidly from a personal get-together with de Gaulle. But concerning the U.S.-French differences, he declared:

"It would be far more difficult if general de Gaulle was not so stalwart in his defense of the West."

Kennedy reaffirmed U.S. policy against spread of nuclear weapons, which have been refused to France, on grounds this would weaken the Western Alliance.

Kennedy said Thursday "we do not agree" with Charles de Gaulle's policy for a French national nuclear force. But he praised the French president for stalwart defense of the West.

Kennedy indirectly turned down a suggestion from a news conference questioner that he see de Gaulle personally. Kennedy has not met the French chief for a year and U.S. and French policies are conflicting on a number of points.

Kennedy Seeking
Peaceful Solution

... TO LAOS CRISIS

Washington (AP)—President Kennedy said Thursday he now say how long GI's must stay in Thailand.

Kennedy, at his news conference, gave his first in-person, public account of U.S. Southeast Asian goals since his Tuesday order assigning 5,000 American combat troops to Thailand.

The President portrayed the U.S. action as in large measure Washington initiative, with Thai support, taken after Red rebels last week seized the Royal Lao government stronghold of Nam Tha and headed toward the Thai border 100 miles away.

In Position Kennedy said his troop order put the United States "in a position to fulfill our obligations" under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact calling for defense of the area against communist threat.

Thailand is a SEATO member and U.S. ally.

"We are continuing to hope that there will be a national government of national union" for an independent, neutral Laos, he said.

"That is our object. I have already indicated the great hazards of a shooting war in Asia. In Asia it is our object to bring about a diplomatic solution which will make the chances of such a war far less likely."

How Long? Asked whether he could say when and under what conditions the American forces would be pulled out of Thailand, the chief executive replied:

"I cannot at this time. They have only been in there for a very short while, and we can't tell when they will come out. It will depend a good deal on what conditions are in Thailand and the neighboring countries."

Replicoff has indicated he expects to retain his cabinet post at least until July.

Republicans who have criticized Kennedy for not naming a Negro to the cabinet have indicated they would support Weaver if his nomination were sent to the Senate.

Southern Democrats could be expected to use some delaying tactics against confirmation of such a nomination.

In response to another question on political matters, Kennedy reiterated he is taking no part in the contest between his brother Edward (Ted) Kennedy and Edward McCormack, nephew of House Speaker John McCormack, for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

Insecurity Hard On Her Stomach

London (UPI)—Surgeons who operated on a 6-year-old girl found in her stomach 118 black shoelaces, 8 ankle socks and 20 pieces of hair ribbon, the Nursing Mirror said Thursday.

The publication reported the girl was in a hospital for mentally handicapped children and suggested "her resorting to eating these long stringy-type things must have been to assuage her feelings of insecurity."

Railroads Break Off Work Rules Talks

Government Keeps Close Watch—JFK

Carriers Say No Strike Expected

Chicago (AP) — Union-management talks about an overhaul of railroad work rules broke down Thursday. The break brought word from President Kennedy that the government is keeping in close touch with the dispute.

The President, at his news conference in Washington, said Secretary of Labor Goldberg is maintaining contact. If there is anything the government can do appropriately to aid in reaching a settlement, he added, it will do so.

It was expected that the government's next move will be to try to get negotiators for the nation's rail lines and the 5 operating unions back into negotiations.

Door Still Ajar
Management representatives, in announcing a break-off in conferences, had left the door ajar for intervention by federal officials. And leaders of the unions, totaling 210,000 engineers, firemen and others, said they were ready to reopen conferences on proposed sweeping changes in work rules and pay and hour systems.

"We do not expect a strike," the carriers stated. Spokesmen for the unions, after their meeting, accused railroad representatives of breaking a pledge and negotiating in bad faith but added:

"We are not talking strike at the present time."

The union leaders also served notice that "we are ready to negotiate whenever they are."

Charge Pledge Broken
The labor chiefs said "the carrier breakoff represents a violation of their pledge at the outset of these conferences to discuss and negotiate all the issues in dispute."

J. E. Wolfe, chief spokesman for the railroads, said the railroads expect to decide within 10 days whether to put into effect economy recommendations of a presidential railroad commission made Feb. 28 which would gradually abolish jobs of 41,000 firemen on diesel engines in yard and freight service.

The talks which ended Thursday began April 2 after the union announced rejection of the commission's proposals and the railroads voiced acceptance of them.

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy said Thursday there has been progress in securing more racial equality in America but there is always room for more improvement.

Book Hoffa On Assault Count

Washington (AP) — Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa was booked Thursday night on an assault charge sworn out by a Teamsters Union aide who said he was beaten up Thursday morning at the union's headquarters.

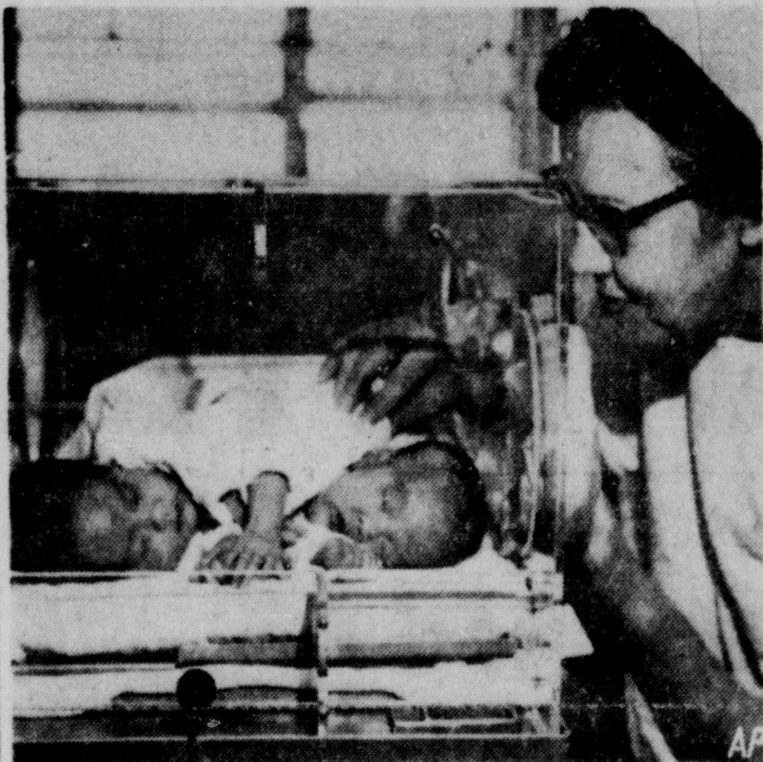

Hoffa joked with newsmen and police as he was booked at Washington's first precinct police station.

He told reporters he would have "nothing whatsoever" to say about the incident which brought the complaint by Samuel Baron of the Teamster's warehouse division.

Bellevue Still Gains Rapidly

Bellevue continues to lead Nebraska's major cities in population increases, with a 12% boost during 1961 estimated by University of Nebraska researchers.

Reporting in the May issue of Business in Nebraska, Dr. Edgar Palmer, director of business research bureau, estimated that 6 of the 24 major cities showed population decreases over the past year.

They are: Alliance, Chadron, Fairbury, Holdrege, Lexington, and Sidney.

The estimates of city populations at the close of 1961 follow:

City	1950	1960	1961
Alliance	7,891	7,845	7,773

They were born April 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Lowe.

The girls together weighed 8 pounds 2 ounces at birth, and now have a combined weight of 11 pounds 4½ ounces.

They had one placenta and umbilical cord, but 6 blood vessels in the cord indicated separate complete circulatory systems, the hospital said. X-ray studies revealed separate hearts and intestinal tracts, and studies are under way to determine whether they have complete and separable livers.

The hospital said the National Foundation March of Dimes birth defect center sponsored early studies of the twins and paid initial hospital expenses. The Crippled Children's service of the state of California will defray surgical expenses.

14 AF Men Are Killed

... In Kenya Crash

Nairobi, Kenya (AP) — A U.S. Air Force transport taking part in the massive operation to orbit a U.S. astronaut this weekend crashed and burned Thursday in the near-by Ngong Hills. All 14 persons aboard were reported killed.

The C130 Hercules carried none of the American astronauts and the tragedy will not affect Saturday's scheduled attempt to orbit astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter.

The question of an astronaut being aboard the transport arose because some are stationed along the line of flight during project Mercury launchings. Three are at their posts now.

Names of the dead, all Air Force men, were withheld pending notification of kin. A police rescue party has brought out some of the bodies.

The plane was based at Evreux Air Base in France and belonged to the 322nd Air Division.

Abiding Faith Sustains Carpenter

By CHARLES STAFFORD
Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — The specter of death on the frontier of space is overshadowed for Malcolm Scott Carpenter by the great expectations.

The 37-year-old astronaut said several times in recent weeks as his globe-girdling orbital flight drew nearer that an abiding faith in God sustains him at all times.

He is acutely aware that a mechanical failure during his 17,500-mile-an-hour flight more than 100 miles above the earth could cause his death.

"But I'm not afraid," he said during a recent interview. "You can't be afraid when you have such great expectations — what you are about to see and about to experience. It's impossible to be afraid."

MALCOLM SCOTT CARPENTER

Carpenter said the conquest of space is an adventure for which he is willing to sacrifice his life, if need be. He feels the risks are far outweighed by the challenge—the chance to be a pioneer in man's exploration of the universe.

The Navy lieutenant commander's awareness that death will be riding his flanks, waiting to close in, is universal among the 7 Mercury astronauts.

And they agree that the millions of Americans who watch their flights on television should be prepared to witness it.

Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the Marine astronaut who blazed the U.S. orbital trail last Feb. 20, told a congressional committee that "we don't envision every flight coming back as successfully as the 3 so far; there will be failures, there will be sacrifices."

An Episcopalian, Carpenter shares the belief of Glenn, a Presbyterian, that religion should not be a sometime thing, handy only in emergencies.

Charles Thorne Named Alumni Round-up Head

Charles Thorne of Lincoln, a 1947 graduate of the University, is the general chairman for the University of Nebraska Alumni Round-up scheduled for June 8-10.

Five hundred alumni are expected to return to the campus for the 39th annual Round-up program sponsored by the Nebraska Alumni Association.

Vice chairman of the program is William Browne Jr., a 1950 graduate.

The Round-up activities will get under way June 8 with the Alumni Association's board of directors meeting at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education. Board members will also attend a dinner, to be held in connection with the Alumni College, June 8 at the Lincoln Country Club.

Highlight of the week-end festivities will be the annual Round-Up luncheon June 9 following commencement. Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will speak, new officers and directors of the Alumni Association will be announced and distinguished service awards will be formally presented to four recipients.

Honor classes planning reunions are 1902, 1912, 1922, 1932, 1937, 1942 and 1952. Other classes who will meet will be 1898, 1906 and 1910. Also being held in connection with Round-up weekend are the Palladian alumni banquet and the Alpha Xi Delta alumnae 50-year reunion, both on Saturday evening, June 9.

time of the year when we lack reserve moisture at the start of a crop season," added Logan.

Rains reported during the past 24 hours that stretched across western Nebraska from Valentine to North Platte were the result of a stationary front that has existed between Imperial and Valentine, said weather bureau spokesmen.

L. D. Wood, meteorologist at the Omaha Weather Bureau termed this front "very unusual."

While these rains will be most valuable we shall need a continuation of moisture to recover a lack of sub-soil moisture that existed in these areas, said crop observers.

A University of Nebraska agronomy professor said that farmer and rancher claims that drought conditions already exist in the state are supported by neutron moisture meter tests that show a dangerous lack of moisture that has already stopped the growth of alfalfa and brome in eastern Nebraska.

"We had better have a rain fast or our wheat crop in eastern sections of the state will be in extreme danger," said Dr. Wm. L. Colville, agronomist at the College of Agriculture, who has made a weekly check of moisture conditions the past 4 years.

Widespread reports that feed grain crops are not germinating without irrigation is supported by moisture meter checks that show a dry topsoil in the upper 6 inches of many fields, agronomists reports.

Colville believes that many farmers and ranchers overestimated the amount of winter moisture the state received.

Rainfall the past 7 months and the deviation from normal shown in Colville's charts show the following:

Month	Rainfall Dev. from normal.
November	-2.29
December	-0.72
January	-0.45
February	-1.87
March	-1.01
April	-0.69
May	-0.29

All recordings were made at the weather station on the College of Agriculture Agronomy farm at 70th & Adams. "This indicates that 5 out of 7 months we were below normal on moisture," Colville said.

He reported that for proper growing conditions field capacity of readily available water should be at this date:

Depth inches:	6	12	24	36	48	60
Wheat	0.82	0.75	1.90	1.92	1.89	1.96

A May 15, 1962, recording for the same depths and different crops showed:

Depth inches:	6	12	24	36	48	60
Wheat	0.00	0.00	0.02	0.03	0.01	0.22
Brome	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00	0.00
Corn	0.28	0.45	0.79	1.16	1.13	1.16
Alfalfa	0.00	0.00	0.10	0.00	0.00	0.00

A May 15, 1961 meter reading last year showed:

Depth inches:	6	12	24	36	48	60
Wheat	0.36	0.56	0.11	0.97	1.10	0.94
Brome	0.24	0.39	0.24	0.00	0.00	0.00
Corn	0.71	0.81	2.72	1.43	2.11	1.86
Alfalfa	0.08	0.38	1.76	0.47	0.00	0.00

"We may be in worse shape than we realize with each day adding to our peril as crops approach the stage where yields are sliced unless moisture is available to growing plants," said Colville.

Is Nebraska headed for a dry cycle?

The only thing that will change farmer and rancher viewpoints will be a general statewide rain that will be needed to close large cracks in fields that are nature's sign of parched fields.

"Others are fearful of authorizing projects which might contribute to the crop surpluses," he told the National Water Resources Engineering Conference. Still others, he said, "look upon

Air Cooling Slated For Cathedral

Extensive renovation of St. Mary's Cathedral at 14th and K will begin in June, Msgr. J. J. Flynn announced Thursday.

The remodeling will include replacement of obsolete heating and electrical systems and the installation of air-conditioning.

In addition, a number of changes will be made in the arrangement of the interior of the church to provide more seating, make services more convenient, and comply with original church planning.

Clark & Enersen will serve as architects on the project, which was made possible by a $34,000 bequest from the estate of the late Bridget Lee and donations from parishioners.

Serving on the renovation and finance board are the following members of the cathedral parish: E. J. Beaurivage, John McLaughlin, John Alexander, Herman Nehe, Henry Aguirre, John Curran, Paul Rucker, C. V. Sullivan and Jack Zimmer.

'62 March Retail Sales Up 6.1% Over February

Nebraska retail sales shook off its "lackadaisical" attitude in March, showing a 6.1% increase over the previous month and a 1.2% climb over a year ago.

The May issue of Business in Nebraska, a bulletin prepared by the University of Nebraska's College of Business Administration, said that auto and farm equipment sales accounted for most of the increase.

Auto dealers reported an 18.3% increase, and farm equipment dealers showed an 8.5% boost in sales.

Those cities showing increases in the unadjusted index are: Alliance, up 9.6%; Falls City and Lincoln, both 7.3; York, 7.2; Sidney, 5.1; Omaha, 4.6; Nebraska City, 3.7; North Platte and Kearney, both 3.3; and Norfolk, 2.4.

Showing decreases: Fremont, down 2.6; Fairbury, 1.8; McCook, 1.5; Holdrege, 1.1; Chadron and Columbus, both 1.0; and Grand Island, 0.2.

The city-by-city index for March retail sales, adjusted for both seasonal and price changes, follows:

Again On Foreign Soil

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The days have again become anxious ones for Americans as United States military forces have been landed on foreign shores. In the last display of U.S. force, the theater of operations was Europe and Berlin where communist actions threatened the freedom and independence of the isolated Western city. The situation in Berlin appears to have calmed down in most respects but this does not mean that the pattern will be the same in Southeast Asia.

American forces are now embarked in Thailand and will be established along the border with troublesome Laos. Peculiarly, there is no more reason to believe these forces will soon be fighting than there was before they landed. It definitely is not intended that they become a fighting force, even though it must be granted that they could. As seems to be the case so often, much of what happens depends now upon the Communists, directed from Russia by Premier Nikita Khrushchev. In landing the forces in Thailand, President Kennedy hopes to impress the Reds with the fact that we will not permit Asia to be swallowed.

We will not permit this even to the point of using force to turn back the Red hordes that have swarmed over new territory in the northwest of Laos. But one cannot help but wonder what the real end of things in Asia will eventually be. At this point, it is a practical impossibility to tell. While the landing of U.S. forces involves a calculated risk, actual warfare is not expected.

This expectation is not necessarily predicated on the belief that the Reds will do much backing down. It is predicated on the belief that the Reds are smarter than to provoke an all-out war when they have been relatively successful in other ways. What this means is that the show of force by the U.S. is not enough without a clearcut policy.

The significant point is that the Pathet Lao forces in Laos have brought more land under their communist control. President Kennedy not only wants a cease-fire established, but he wants the old cease-fire line adhered to—the line set before the most recent Red advances. But this does not seem to be a very firm position. The administration talks most emphatically about the cease-fire and only incidentally about the establishment of the old cease-fire line. There is no commitment to fight for the retention of the old line, just for the cease-fire. The Pathet Lao forces are likely to keep the situation taut until they are certain of the gains that can be consolidated without any risk.

If they are permitted to maintain their present position, the Western position in Asia will be that much weaker. It will give them a stronger voice yet in the establishment of a so-called neutral government in Laos. It will mean that the neutral government is just that much closer to falling completely into the hands of the Communists. The final fall of Laos may not come overnight but its fall certainly seems inevitable. This would give the Reds a good beachhead in the heart of Southeast Asia—would open to them a door to Thailand, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and the Gulf of Siam. This gives them a penetration into all of the South Pacific and has them bristling with an eye on Burma, Pakistan and India. There is hardly a thoughtful person who could see the situation in any other light.

It can and is said, of course, that we will not permit South Viet Nam, Cambodia or Thailand to fall, even if Laos does eventually come under Red domination. But the same thing was said about Laos not too long ago and the Communists are well aware of this. The pattern they have used to meet that threat and defeat it is a difficult one to counter.

They do not go far enough at any one time to provoke a full-scale outbreak. What they take, they take in little bites. If they now tried to cross the border in Thailand, there would be war without much question of a doubt. But they will be content with less than this—just enough less to discourage the U.S. from a fighting effort to stop them.

Their immediate objective is Laos and it is from that point of conquest that they will begin to eat away at the rest of Southeast Asia. The next most vulnerable spot appears to be South

A Gradual Gnawing

Viet Nam where the pro-Western government is already under heavy communist threat. It is a government unpopular with the people and one of uncertain military strength. The U.S. now has a firm commitment to the defense of Viet Nam but would this be maintained in the face of a decayed government and a crumbling military force? And while Thailand is strong at the moment, it, too, is subjected to constant subversion by the Reds, as are Burma, Pakistan and India.

The landing this week of U.S. troops in Thailand, the limited expectation of their use and the expected holding by the Reds of their latest gains present a disturbing example of the swamp in which we seem to be in Asia. Our current show of force leaves something to be desired by way of longer-range strategy.

It's Tough Everywhere

A sizeable body of Americans persist in the dismaying conviction that the federal government has a cross-eyed man aiming the foreign aid program. It is so seldom anything hits the target.

But it now seems that bad marksmanship is an occupational ailment everywhere, Russia no less.

Earlier when the Russian press was more tightly kept and couldn't even print a weather forecast without it being rigged by the Politburo, Russian action appeared to be a paragon of efficiency. But now that censorship has somewhat relaxed the Russian foreign aid picture is changing. Pravda and Izvestia, the two big Russian papers, are complaining. They found out the foreign aid bureau managed to send a

Make Sure Of The Essence

Ever since the New Deal took steps to break the ice jam of frozen credit in the early '30's most of the nation's savings and loan institutions have enjoyed the benefits of a central trading post for their mortgages, greater flexibility in adjusting their lending capital to fit their market, plus insurance protecting their shareholders, each to the extent of $10,000.

The era also witnessed private banks extending their activity into the home loan field, but without these specific facilities. Now leaders in the private banking field are seeking congressional consent to set up private facilities akin to the Federal Home Loan Bank, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae).

Here is an instance of a once highly controversial, federally sponsored innovation developing into a desirable pattern for private financial institutions. The notable success of the federally sponsored home credit system works in favor of private finance now doing likewise. But the case will not go to decision on such simple terms. In the first place the building and loan interests will not relish the possibility of a raid on their field of operation. And there are other considerations.

One is that while the government does not own and operate the national savings and loan apparatus, it did, in initiating it, accept an implied responsibility in event of an economic collapse. While the Federal Home Loan Bank has long since discharged its obligations to the government it still possesses a lingering right to call on the Federal Treasury for $750,000,000 in case of need. Another fact is that it enforces interest rate limitations and other restrictions in the interest of the home buyer and the national economic welfare. If private finance is not prepared to supply satisfactory safeguards of corresponding effect they would be asking for the form rather than the essence.

China War Or Give Up Laos?

WASHINGTON — John F. Kennedy faces one of the most agonizing decisions of his short but hectic presidential career. The question is whether to rescue the tiny kingdom of Laos by risking war with Red China.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, after long and careful study, have told the President that the only real way to save Laos is by bombing the Red Chinese mainland. What Kennedy faces, therefore, is an alternative similar to that which Truman faced in Korea—namely, to bomb the Chinese North of the Yaul River and thereby risk world war.

The agonizing alternatives were placed before the President following the last meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. At this meeting they discussed three alternatives:

1. Send Thai and South Vietnamese troops into Laos to bolster the badly demoralized royal Lao army. This, while possible, would only run the risk of bringing a far greater number of Chinese troops into the beleaguered country. The Chinese have the manpower and, the joint chiefs believed, would be glad of an excuse to use it.
2. Pull out altogether and admit an American defeat.
3. Bomb the supply centers of the pro-communist Pathet Lao. These are located just across the border in Red China.

This last alternative was put forward by Adm. Harry Felt in talks with Secretary of Defense McNamara during the latter's visit to Southeast Asia. Felt was careful to say he was not recommending it, only advising of the possibility.

During last Monday morning's meeting of the joint chiefs, several other cold and sober facts were discussed.

Fact One was that as of this moment Laos is gone, the Pathet Lao defeat of the royalist field forces is complete except for the mopping up. The royalist field army has been routed and nothing stands between the Pathet Lao and the capital except a small security force. Only U.S. intervention can prevent the Pathet Lao from taking over the capital and the entire country if they wish.

Fact Two was that American military advisers had urged the right-wing royalists not to concentrate their troops around Nam Tha in the north. We had repeated the warnings over and over. They were ignored. And exactly what we feared happened; the Pathet Lao overwhelmed right-wing forces at Nam Tha, even though they had only 2,200 men against 5,000 right-wing loyalists.

Fact Three—U.S. troops would be lost in any limited warfare intervention by the United States.

The joint chiefs were especially emphatic on this point. They warned against frittering away our strength on halfway measures. There is one U.S. army combat team of about 1,000 men already in Thailand, plus 1,800 Marines.

Demos Receive Senate Windfall

WASHINGTON — The Maryland primaries and an unexpected resignation by an incumbent Republican point to the gain of two Senate seats for Democrats this fall.

Free State Democrats gave Rep. Daniel B. Brewster a surprisingly strong endorsement for their nomination to succeed Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler, who chose not to run again. Maryland observers are predicting Brewster's election over the Republican nominee, Edward T. Miller.

Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut, whose decision to retire caught all of his party leaders off base, has reinforced the already bright prospects of the Kennedy Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Abe Ribicoff, who soon resigns to make the Senate bid. Bush, who is 67, is apparently obedient to the judgment of his wife and doctors.

Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., 54, promptly announced he would seek the Republican nomination. It seems possible that there will also be recruits from the large Republican selection of hopeful aspirants for governor.

Secretary Ribicoff is not home yet for the nomination of his party, an honor vigorously sought by Congressman-at-large Frank Kowalski has made some progress with his attacks on Ribicoff and Democratic National and Connecticut State Chairman John W. Bailey, who is credited with arranging Ribicoff's return home.

State experts still believe that Bailey and Ribicoff have the situation in hand in their own party at least.

By coincidence, the senior Democrat in point of continuous service and the oldest senator, Carl Hayden of Arizona, chose Wednesday also to announce that he would seek re-election to another six-year term. Hayden will be 85 next October 2.

Arizona, despite its growing population and prosperity, is a reclamation state, and Hayden, from his gold-plated eminence as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has hitherto been invincible. The old-timers of the state claim it still is true and that the newcomers, many of them from the prosperous middle-class, will do nothing to change it.

One articulate Republican who hopes this is not so is Stephen Shadegg, best known here as a frequent ghost writer for Sen. Barry Goldwater. Shadegg has two opponents for the Republican nomination; the primaries take place in September.

It is said here that Hayden will not have any primary trouble. Such declarations are naturally subject to the march of time; precedent also indicates that even the biggest names sometimes take their pitcher to the well once too often.

Senator Bush's decision not to undertake the rigors of another campaign will be well understood by his colleagues. In most states, the population explosion and the growth of the cities make campaigning ever more demanding.

Youth Problems Nothing New

By MONA B. PARKER

Fae Montgomery described a situation in Morrill which much of the rest of the state, indeed, the entire Midwest, has been experiencing. Two days of threatening weather produced very little by way of much needed moisture. And she expressed another universal feeling:

"Somebody told me he had heard a prediction that this was to be one of the warmest summers on record. I hope he heard it wrong."

Meanwhile, her husband had a very pertinent quote for Mail readers:

"Our youth of today seem concerned only with self pleasures and frivolity, and honest toil is not part of their pathway. They are becoming more disrespectful of their elders. The future of people is uncertain unless the youth can be taught to walk more surely after the ways of their fathers. We unto succeeding generations."

Twentieth century opinion? Monty offered the further information that this was a translation from an Egyptian pyramid constructed in the year 3000 B.C.

Modern youth does pretty well in figuring out a workable philosophy for itself. Linda Williams, the Scotia Register's teenager, pondered over the ome of final exams just ahead, wondered if the additional element averaged in her grade would be a help or otherwise, sighed and observed: "The finals are going to be whether I pass them or not."

Oakdale's eldest citizen is Bill Brittain, who is 92. His formula for good health is: "Sleep like one pig and eat like two." A staff reporter

Cary Reynolds recalls in the Curtis Enterprise the days when the combination of board walks and long skirts for ladies created a real problem. There were always loose boards and nails sticking up to catch the voluminous lace petticoats and skirts so popular then. Starching and hand-ironing the garments were no easy tasks, either. The cookstove had to be fired up, she said, to heat the "sad irons," torturous instruments which she considered to be rightly named.

for the Neligh News, calling on him for a story about baseball the way it was played in the early 1900's, found him about to cut down a tree.

Art Brown of the Friend Sentinel thinks we have developed a peculiar sort of hybrid in our primary elections. The taxpayers pay for party nominations, he says. Actually the candidates of the two parties will not compete until after the nominations are made, but we have had Democrats doing battle with Republicans all the way.

"Why don't both parties confine their efforts within their own circles until after the primary is over?"

Romaine Saunders, who dwells in Capitol City but does a worthy job of continuing his "Prairie Talk" for his home country,

O'Neill, tells in the Frontier of his meeting with a young chap down from North Dakota, intent on going to college to learn to be a farmer.

"I told him to go back to his farm home as that was the place to learn to farm, not in a seat in a school room."

Editor Duane Kunzman passed a boat the other day in Laurel. It was smartly mounted, painted up all shipshape, and complete with sign that announced it to be "For Sail."

The Pawnee Republican's Max Martin is of the opinion that Mel Steen is a pretty good salesman, when his product is our state.

"After hearing him talk about his work and the plans in the hopper for the future of Nebraska as a recreational state, he made a believer of me."

Election Comments

Lincoln, Neb. It is almost unbelievable, but voters chose Ralph Beermann, a Washington rookie with a history of againstism and obstructionism, over Phil Weaver, a congressional veteran who had seniority on powerful committees which could help Nebraska and who has a history of battling for Nebraska.

Lincoln, because of the Legislature's restricting farce and First District voters' idiotic decision to kick themselves in the teeth, is now disenfranchised in Washington. The Legislature took care of Omaha and the ranch interests of the West, but the state's second largest city is now without any form of representation.

Beermann will have about as much pull in Washington as a John Birchler at an ADA meeting and it's a cinch he'll continue to vote as a 17th Century Royalist.

I recall the storm of indignation when ex-football coach Bill Jennings made an off-the-cuff remark to the effect that "Nebraska will never be great in anything." He was so right. Noted physicists leave the university because of the Legislature's tight fist; tourist promotion is awarded a pitiful sum of $25,000; urban renewal is clobbered with the aid of a small group of obstructionists who peddle trash about God's being against the idea and a vote for urban renewal is just what Khrushchev wanted; and the clincher comes with the ouster of a man dedicated to the best interests of Nebraska by a man whose only claim to fame is the ability to shout "No!"

It is no wonder that young people leave Nebraska and head for areas which thrive on progress instead of wallowing in the archaic "White Spot" tradition. They are the lucky ones. Those of us who are forced by age and circumstance to remain behind must pay the price for our own folly.

DISGUSTED REPUBLICAN

Tight Curtain

Phillipsburg, Kan. President Kennedy said in defense of his March 17, 1961, order forcing delivery of communist propaganda, that we are sending many more tons of propaganda mail to communist countries than they are sending here. However, "sending" must be distinguished from "delivering." That our propaganda mail does not enter into communist countries was on Oct. 17, 1961, established by Mr. Khrushchev when he said in

Moscow:

"The imperialist gentry would, of course, like to see the doors of our socialist society open to espionage. But our doors are tightly closed to subversive activities against socialism. Our society is open (only) to all people from abroad who come to us with an open heart."

Remember, even a spoken word against socialism is considered by Mr. Khrushchev to be espionage." It has been pointed out in the January 23, 1962, Congressional Record, p. 643, that our propaganda is not delivered to communist countries. The Daily Worker is the only article which has been found to be delivered from this country.

Women In Shorts

Lincoln, Neb. I read in the court filings in The Star about those who are arrested for disorderly conduct, and wonder why they don't also arrest those women who are running around in short pants. They have no pride in themselves and nothing could be more disorderly than some of them. When the law cracks down on a few people, let it crack down on all.

I wonder if these women think they look cute. And still they blame a man for looking at them. If a woman keeps her place, a man will stay in his place.

I wonder how they will go dressed in the next ten years. Maybe we will be lucky to see them in shorts.

I'm a woman 64½ years young, have been 54 years in Lancaster County and most of those years were spent right here in Lincoln.

L. EHRLICH

Our Strength

Lincoln, Neb. Bravo to "Survivor of Bataan" (May 9 Star) for a letter with a punch. It should be published nationwide for the benefit of those so-called Americans who forget too quickly and who would rather be "Red than dead!" I lost a cousin on Corregidor and that heartache can never be erased.

I, too, feel that we as a nation should make ourselves so strong that any aggressor would think twice before starting anything it could not finish. We cannot and must not appease any dictatorial power for fear of being condemned by our friends and neighbors.

We have two children who, I pray, will be able to grow up to rear their children in a normal free society. This is what our ancestors fled foreign lands and fought so hard for. Let us protect it.

MRS. T. M.

Patches, Prevention

Lincoln, Neb. I should like to express my personal appreciation for the tremendous assistance you have given to the urban renewal campaign. It is my feeling that the campaign has convinced most people that the urban fabric does wear thin. Surely our conservative voters will eventually see that prevention and reinforcement are preferable to patching.

Nebraska National Sues Boulder Bank

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — The Nebraska National Life Insurance Co. of Lincoln sued in district court Thursday for a prorated share of assets of the defunct Boulder Industrial Bank.

The bank was one of a number of firms formed by Allen J. Lefferdink of Boulder, a former Lincoln resident, who told a Denver court judge last week his personal assets had shrunk to $14 and a wristwatch. Lefferdink now has no control of any of the firms.

Named in the Nebraska firm's action were Frank E. Goldy, Colorado bank commissioner, and his deputy, Maurice Reuler, assigned to liquidate assets of the bank.

The suit said its claim is based on a "paper" savings account which had a balance in the bank of $126,000 in October, 1960. The suit continues:

Bought Stock

The account was established in December, 1958 when Lefferdink exercised an option to buy 141,000 shares of common stock in the Lincoln firm.

Lefferdink worked out an agreement whereby he opened a savings account of $282,000 in the bank in lieu of paying cash for the stock.

He was named chairman of the board of Nebraska National, but officials said he had no authority to act on its behalf.

Beginning late in 1959, the insurance firm withdrew $60,000 from the bank at the rate of $15,000 per month. Thomas R. Pansing, Nebraska National president, and other officials, repurchased $100,000 worth of shares in the firm.

Remainder Owed

The suit contends these transactions left a balance of $126,000 to which the Nebraska firm is entitled, plus interest.

Reuler denied the firm's claim March 11, 1961 and was upheld last May 1 by Goldy. The commissioner said $56,000 was on deposit in the account and there was no evidence the bank benefitted from the sale of insurance firm stock.

CHAMBER WANTS ALTERNATIVES FOR URBAN RENEWAL PROCESS

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Thursday offered "its good offices" to those who have suggested alternatives to urban renewal for prevention of deterioration and betterment of the city.

President A. James Ebel made the offer in a prepared statement recounting the Chamber's efforts regarding the urban renewal referendum election.

Ebel said that while the election result "leaves no doubt" of the feeling of the electorate, the Chamber is "confident that citizens of Lincoln are interested in the betterment of the city and prevention of deterioration."

"It is obvious they were not in accord with the machinery of urban renewal to accomplish this task," he said.

Alternatives

"There were many suggestions during the campaign of other ways that the job could be accomplished. The Chamber will now make its good offices available to those who have suggestions so that we may continue to improve our city."

Ebel's statement noted the Chamber had joined with the city in promoting legislation which made it possible for the voters to express their desires on urban renewal and had helped "to explain urban renewal in a positive way" to the voters.

Ebel also congratulated Larry Enersen and Willard Townsend, co-chairmen of the Organization For Urban Renewal, "for the tireless effort they and their committee expended on behalf of this very difficult educational job."

Think And Act Group Denies It's Anti-Intellectual

By The Associated Press

Grand Island's Think and Act Committee "is anti-liberalism, anti-socialism and anti-egotism," according to its president, Bill Moore.

But it is not anti-intellectual, Moore said.

The comments responded to a talk earlier this week by a University of Nebraska English professor, James Miller Jr., in which he described the Grand Island group as anti-intellectual.

Said Moore: "I fail to understand why Dr. Miller considers our objections to the socialism we see at the university as anti-intellectualism. I fail to see how being opposed to socialistic indoctrination by teachers is anti-intellectualism."

Hong Kong Erecting Wire Barricade To Stop Refugee Hordes

Hong Kong (AP) — British authorities said Thursday night a massive wire barricade is being built across the Hong Kong-Red China border in an effort to halt the flood of refugees fleeing hungry southeast China.

The move came as the Hong Kong Morning Post reported 700,000 refugees are heading for the border from the Canton and Swatow areas and the smaller towns in Kwangtung Province. The post quoted private sources in Canton.

From 3,000 to 4,000 Chinese crossed the border during the day bringing to about 30,000 the officially estimated number who have sought refuge in the crown colony.

Police and British troops sent back all they could catch as part of a recent crackdown on illegal crossings. About 25,000 have been returned since May 1. The government took the action because it said it could not handle any increase in its refugee-swollen population.

—THAILAND— Marines Armed To Teeth Camps Established Along Mekong River

Bangkok, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Marines, lugging hard-ware, set up their first camps Thursday night along Thailand's Mekong River rim.

They were in a position to back up the Laotian government if communist forces launch any attempt to seize southern Laos, though military spokesmen said the Marines' only purpose is to defend Thailand against any aggression.

They received a friendly welcome from the Thai people, jealous of their independence.

A Trim Group

Looking trim despite their mottled jungle uniforms, the force of 1,800 Leathernecks moved easily in Bangkok's turgid heat as they unloaded tons of equipment from helicopters and warships.

Draped with rifles, grenade launchers, bazookas and machine guns, the first units of the task force were flown immediately from Bangkok's Don Muang Airport in big U.S. C130 Hercules transports to Udon, 350 miles northeast of the Thailand capital.

Marines of the 3rd Battalion, 9th Regiment, from Okinawa, set up camp at Nong Lahan, 20 miles east of Udon, in a flat area that is hot and dusty in summer, soggy in winter.

No U.S. Threat

The camp is 40 miles southeast of Vientiane, the Laos administrative capital across the Mekong River. This is more than 200 miles southeast of the segment of Thailand's far northern border that was exposed to infiltration by the recent offensive of pro-communist Pathet Lao forces in northwest Laos. The implications were that the United States was making no threatening gesture.

Other Maines were expected to be moved to a 500-mile arc extending along the Mekong southeast of Udon to Ubon, near the southern tip of Laos.

American spokesmen said the U.S. Army's battle group of the 27th Regiment — about 1,300 men — was being moved back to a camp 50 miles southwest of Khorat. This center, 130 miles northeast of Bangkok, has rail and road connections with Udon and Ubon.

No country has offered to take a significant number of the Chinese.

Nationalist China's Parliament announced in Formosa it would take up the refugee question Friday.

Feng Chih-yuan, spokesman for the Free China Relief Association, denied reports that the Nationalist government is reluctant to resettle refugees on the island. He said no official report of the Hong Kong refugee situation had been sent to Formosa.

Asked about suggestions that Formosa should take 100,000 refugees from Hong Kong, Feng said: "That will be a big operation which would involve many considerations."

He said the Formosa government has proposed international assistance to help solve the refugee problem in Hong Kong.

Describing the new border barricade, a Hong Kong government statement said it would be higher and thicker than the simple wire fence now set up along the crown colony's border.

The existing fence is flimsy in many areas and has been repeatedly breached by refugees.

Several sources have speculated that Red China is encouraging the flood of refugees partly to ease its food problems and partly to em-

POSTCARD by Stan Kalaplan

Off to the barber shop this sunny morning and found the place teeming with small fry. "It's the end of the mid-term holidays," said the barber. "Every mother waited until the last minute to send them in for a haircut. Likely the same in every shavup in the city."

The boys were in the 8 to 10 bracket. Boys are sent away to school at a youthful age. Great credit is put upon them for coming up quickly to the adult world.

At Hove, Sussex, 8-year-old Wolf Cub John Hyttner saw a man climbing out of a hotel window with a bundle. John thereupon tailed him to his house, called the police and stood by virtuously while the coppers nailed Robert Greig, 46, who had stolen some bottles and a little money.

"We hope to see John on the force someday," said Chief Inspector Peter Cox, signing Johnny's Wolf Cub book.

Even the criminal Greig had a good word.

"I'd like to give credit to this boy and to commend him," he said grandly.

In my own district of Chelsea (pop. 49,140), onetime home of London's beatniks (now that rents are fashionably up, we have rich beats) —in this stylish setting, Countess Bunny Esterhazy was married to the son of the Earl of Minto.

It was extremely grand—there were 20 live bunnies given away to younger guests.

The Queen came to the reception. It was a Catholic ceremony and, as Defender of the Faith of the Church of England, the Queen has to do these things according to the book.

There were 600 face card rank guests.

At the time of the toast, Princess Margaret was caught without a champagne glass. Her ever-loving quickly handed her his glass, grabbing another from a passing tray.

Gallant is the word.

All over summery Chelsea, the rich beats sat outside the pubs—they've moved tables outside now. They sat behind their beards, the girls in black stockings, no makeup. They discussed the wedding. And Art. And Life. And Literature.

I mean the whole borough had a lot of tone.

It is the season of brides and beer. Also of small boys with air rifles.

American TV westerns are blamed for the increase of small boys potting the passerby in the best tradition of the Winning of the West.

The House of Commons has put up a bill to bar air guns to kids under 14.

A recent holdup murder followed the pattern of a TV show so closely that the newspapers refer to it as "The Laramie Murder."

On the summery weekend, we get the weekend beat. Off with the bowler and on with the turtle-neck sweater.

They sit moodily in the thin London sun. Drinking half pints of brown, bitter beer. There are the Angry Young Men. (though that phase is a little out right now. It's better to just be against everything. But don't get mad at it.)

The sleek, black Daimlers of the wedding party slide by. The beats give them the beat, no emotion stare. And go back to beer. And Life. And Art. And Literature.

Lincoln Employment Office To Move

Leasing negotiations are now underway to locate at least part of the Lincoln office of the Nebraska Employment Division in the old Continental National Bank Building at 11th and O, it was learned Thursday.

The division's Lincoln offices currently are located at 905 O. The lease on these quarters terminates June 30. State Labor Commissioner Donald D. Bastemeyer said at least part of the Lincoln operations will be moved to the Continental Building now, and perhaps the entire operation.

3 Floors

If the entire operation is moved, he said, part of the second floor of the building, as well as the ground floor and basement will be leased. The expanding agency is outgrowing its present quarters, and its staff is expected to grow further with the implementation of such new programs as the Manpower Training and Development Act which becomes effective July 1.

H. A. Wolf Co., Inc. of Lincoln and Omaha purchased the Continental Building last year. That portion of the building which formerly housed the Continental National Bank has been without a permanent tenant since the bank moved to its new building in 1958.

The Lincoln office of the Nebraska Employment Division is financed through federal funds and administered by the state.

The state administrative offices of the Nebraska Employment Division are now located on the 4th floor of the Rudge & Guenzel Building at 13th and N.

These offices will be moved to the new State Labor Department Building on which construction is slated to begin this summer at 16th and J.

Winds Damage Ulysses Dryer

Ulysses—High winds here damaged a $30,000 dryer at the Farmer's Co-Op Grain and Supply elevator.

Reports indicated that the wind was part of a twister which touched down in several places in that area.

A wind storm blew down 6 trees on the Jerry Osmera farm southwest of Ulysses.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. A startling innovation is the sheer front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of "wonder" Lycra spandex fiber. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the designer-genius, Olga.

Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girdle or panty version. Call Foundations, Miller & Paine, 432-8511 now.

HATHAWAY'S COOL BLUE

C. F. Hathaway, New England's most famous shirt maker, has just come up with a brand new shade called Cool Blue.

The secret of its coolness is the quiet whisper of grey that Hathaway weaves into it. Crisp as a sea breeze, perfect for navy and charcoal-toned suits.

We have Cool Blue in three of Hathaway's most popular summer shirts. Feel as cool as they look—require not one drop of starch to sail through the day without slumping.

SEC Ponders Ties Between Brokerage Firm, USAMCO

Washington (AP) — Officials of a nationwide brokerage firm told Thursday about personal profits in an obscure stock that dropped to 25 cents a share after their customers invested $3 million at prices ranging as high as $19.

The Securities and Exchange Commission explored ties between officials of Shearson, Hammill & Co., the broker — and U.S. Automatic Merchandising Co. (USAMCO), a Redondo Beach, Calif., vending machine firm now in receivership.

Shearson, Hammill, a member of the New York Stock Exchange has 47 branches from coast to coast and ranks as the nation's 7th largest brokerage chain.

John D. Dunbar of Los Angeles, Shearson, Hammill's senior partner on the West Coast, was a central figure at public hearings conducted as part of the SEC's broad study of securities markets.

Dunbar, one of USAMCO's original directors, testified that he sold 3,300 shares of USAMCO stock a year ago for a profit indicated at $41,800.

Richard J. Teweles, another partner and manager of Shearson, Hammill's Los Angeles office, said he sold 4,500 shares of USAMCO last June. Prices prevailing at the time would indicate that his profit totaled at least $39,500.

SEC attorney Eugene Rotberg suggested that several Shearson, Hammill employees were selling USAMCO stock last May and June while public customers were being urged to buy.

Murray D. Stefanie of New York, the firm's operating partner, said that, as a result of the USAMCO affair, Shearson, Hammill has changed some of its sales procedures "pretty drastically."

Several California customers currently are suing the brokerage chain, alleging that they were induced to buy the stock because salesmen made false and inflated claims. The company witnesses denied improper selling.

Shearson, Hammill was the principal dealer in USAMCO shares in the over-the-counter market from the time the stock was offered to the public at $1 a share in November 1960 until last fall. As principal dealer, it has a large voice in deciding day-to-day price changes.

Rotberg said the pricing was directed by James Brum, a Los Angeles employee. According to the SEC attorney, Brum owned 4,500 USAMCO shares at the time he began "making a market" in the stock. Rotberg said Brum's name was unaccountably missing from a tally of employee transactions supplied by the company.

Commemorative Homestead Stamp Goes On Sale Sunday

Beatrice (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day will join citizens of Beatrice next Sunday in Homestead Centennial stamp ceremonies.

The commemorative 4 cent stamp is going on sale here Sunday, anniversary of the signing of the Homestead Act by President Lincoln on May 20, 1862.

Postmaster General Day will speak in ceremony at Chautauqua Park.

So far 200,000 requests have come in for first day covers on the stamp which will go on sale here Sunday. The requests are continuing to come in at the rate of 10,000 a day. Nineteen special employees at the postoffice here are doing nothing but opening the mail from collectors.

The Chamber of Commerce has printed a special cachet cover and offered to address it, affix the commemorative stamp and get a first day cancellation, all for 10 cents, including the cost of the stamp.

The chamber has set a deadline of Friday for handling requests for the cachet.

Beatrice was selected as the point for first day of issue because it is the site of Homestead National Monument, where new facilities, including a Visitor Center, are being competed for the Homestead Act centennial year.

Dedication of the Visitor Center will not be until June 10, beginning week of the general celebration of the centennial. But Supt.

The News Around The Town

It is a little early for summer travel talk, and a little late for spring home-comer talk, so maybe we'd better skip the whole idea and go on to something else. We do know of some travelers, however — and also of a home-comer or two, but both are a bit in the future, so we'll wait.

The 100 Club, as you know, is having one of its fun parties at the Cornhusker Hotel on Saturday evening, and this morning we have the guest list.

It includes Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Buell of Bassett; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Burnham of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Richard McMahon of Corn- ing, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Van Ashmun, Mr. and Mrs. Har- old Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jorgenson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dalton.

Doubtless you also have heard that the curtain goes up on "Finian's Rainbow" at the Community Play- house on Friday night. As is usual with opening nights, there will be a snack supper following the performance —and because of the snack supper there will be no cof- fee at intermission. But coffee will be served on Sat- urday evening and during the run of the play — through Sunday, May 27.

The coffee hosts and host- esses will include Mr. and Mrs. Dale Young, Miss Jean Hahn, Miss Jerome

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

EASTBOROUGH

"Snips and snails and pup- py dog tails" — for sure, that's what little boys are made of. A young Eastbor- ough gentleman of our ac- quaintance (kindergarten age) had the good fortune to lose a fingernail in a bat- tle with a car door thereby greatly increasing his popu- larity with the fair sex — the very young, if not the adult. With no provocation whatever, he produces from a pocket filled with grubby objects the now-detached fingernail, which has made him the object of great envy among the small set.

Of more interest to the adult residents of the sub- urb is the news of an an- nual reunion which was held last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Mitch-

Ulsaner, Dr. and Mrs. Rich- ard Paulson, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Vandersall, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Beckenhauser, Mr. and Mrs. Devern Jac- obsen, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Ashleman, II, Miss Kay Booth, Miss Chris Trott,

Maj. and Mrs. David Fin- ne, Mrs. Jerry Sharp, Miss Marilyn Njus, Miss Sandra Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sterns, Mr. and Mrs. James Duggan, Mr. and Mrs. Wil- liam Kimball, Dr. and Mrs. John S. Thompson, Clair Rickel, Mr. and Mrs. Wil- liam Klamm and Mr. and Mrs. James McKeivey.

Serving as hosts and host- esses for the Friday night snack supper are Mr. and Mrs. Hal Booth and Mr. and Mrs. Butler Shaffer.

ell and their sons, Philip and Neil, who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. David Brewster and their sons, Mike and Sydney, of Arkan- sas City, Kan.

It seems that Mr. Mitchell and Mrs. Brewster were boyhood friends and man- age to get together at least once a year, and as the date of the reunion this year co- incided with a few anniver- saries, the reunion also ce- lebrated the Brewsters' wed- ding anniversary, Mrs. Mitch- ell's birthday and Mr. Brew- ster's birthday.

And to make the whole week end a success, a sur- prise arrival on Sunday was John Ruff of Cheyenne, Wyo., also a former schoolmate of Mr. Mitchell's and Mr. Brewster's, who was house- hunting for his family's im- minent move to Lincoln, where Mr. Ruff will be stationed with the Missile Squa- dron at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Popular neighbors in the suburb who will be leaving Lincoln soon, May 29, to be exact, to make their home in Colorado are Mr. and Mrs. Neil Lilley and their children, Deneille and Ran- dy. The Lilleys' new address will be Arvada, Colo., a sub- urb of Denver, where the family is building a home.

To say farewell to her neighbors and to introduce the family of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Doane, who have purchased the Lilley home,

Mrs. Lilley entertained at a coffee last Thursday morn- ing in courtesy to Mrs. Doane. The Doanes, inci- dentally, have two daugh- ters, Tracy and Tandy.

And busy these days wind- ing up a season of activities for her bowling league, of which she is president, is Mrs. Donald Grundstrom who is completing plans for the group's annual Trophy Dinner, to be held next Tues- day evening at the NCO Club. The league, by the way, is known as the Atlas Wives League.

Head Faculty Club

The new and outgoing members of the board of the Lincoln Public Schools Fac- ulty Wives Club were guests Thursday evening at a cov- ered dish dinner held at the home of Mrs. Steven Watkins.

During the evening, plans were made for the group's annual family picnic, to be held June 1.

treasurer; Mrs. George Rush, hospitality chairman; (standing) Mrs. Edwin Chil- dress, vice president; Mrs. George Alexander, publicity chairman; Mrs. Richard E. Johnson, president.

Party Is Prenuptial Courtesy

When Miss Kathy Payne and Miss Mary Coonrad en- tertained on Thursday eve- ning at the home of Miss Coonrad, the party com- plimented June bride-elect Miss Jantina Dyksterhuis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Dyksterhuis, whose mar- riage to Archie Clegg, will take place on June 24. Twenty guests were in- vited for an informal eve- ning, and the honoree was presented with a miscellan- eous shower.

The Brides' Book

Completing plans for her late spring wedding is Miss Sharon Quick, who will be- come the bride of Larry Cook of Chester on Sunday, May 27. The wedding will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Stromsburg Methodist Church.

Miss Karen Kasha of Lin- coln will attend Miss Quick as maid of honor, and the matron of honor will be Mrs. Douglas Colberg of Lincoln.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Sheila Beebe, Gresham, and Mrs. Gary Jergensen, Lincoln, and lighting the candles will be Miss Janet Quick, Hordville, and Miss Luanna Ericson, Stromsburg.

Miss Lori Lynn Hodgen and Miss Suzy Hodgen of Omaha will be the flower girls.

Serving Mr. Cook as best man will be Robert Moline of Stromsburg, and the corps of ushers will include Ron Bachman and Paul Oakeson, Jr., St. Paul; Allan Duey, Hebron; Denny Witt, Gering; Denny Quick, brother of the bride-elect, and John Os- borne, Stromsburg; and Bill Norris, Lincoln.

On Saturday, May 5, the bride-to-be was honored at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower for which friends of Miss Quick's mother were hostesses at the York Coun- try Club. The preceding day, Miss Karen Kasha and Mrs. Gary Jergensen were co- hostesses at a personal shower at the home of Mrs. Jergensen.

Other recent courtesies for the May bride-elect were held in Stromsburg and in- clude the brunch given by Mrs. Kenneth Christensen and Mrs. Harold Beckman; the linen shower for which Mrs. Wesley Fredrickson, Mrs. John Osborne and Miss Marilyn Jensen were co-host- esses; and the kitchen shower given by Miss Kay Anderson and Miss Judy Anderson.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, June 10, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Copenhaver of Syracuse of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Karen Frances, of Lincoln, to Gene H. Mirks of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay H. Mirks of Fairbury.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, Aug. 12. Miss Copenhaver is a member of the secretarial

Bridge

Don't Pursue Game

B. Jay Becker

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	Dble	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ84 ♥Q93 ♦KJ5 ♣A62
2. ♠AK852 ♥AK74 ♦82 ♣73
3. ♠AQJ4 ♥108752 ♦AKQ ♣6
4. ♠AK2 ♥Q65 ♦AQ3 ♣KJ42
5. ♠KQ763 ♥AQ54 ♦K2 ♣K5

1. Pass. A player who makes a takeout double is not required to bid again when his partner makes a minimum response. There are no surplus values in this hand beyond the double, and the way to show that is to pass. North cannot have a really good hand. If he had, he would have jumped the bidding to show such values. Hence, there is no point to pursuing a game that cannot be there.

2. Two hearts. Here we have 14 high-card points, but they are strongly fortified by better trump support and distributional values. Game is not out of the question, since partner may have some such holding as: ♠73 ♥Q8652 ♦A94 ♣J94. All he could do with such a hand is respond one heart to the double. Our values beyond the double are best expressed by raising to two hearts.

It would be wrong to jump to three hearts with this holding. Partner, having been forced to bid, may have a poor hand.

3. Four hearts. It would be overly conservative to bid less than game. Even if partner's hand is bad, he is unlikely to lose four tricks. A jump to three hearts would be inadequate. It is not a forcing bid and partner might pass and lose a game. The point is that you don't have to have a 100% probability of making a game before you bid it. A reasonable chance is good enough. It's not wise to play them too close to the vest.

4. One notrump. This is an underbid, no doubt, but the hand is not good enough for two notrump and no better bid than one notrump is available. Doubling first and then bidding a notrump is stronger than bidding a no-trump directly. Hence, partner is alerted to expect a good hand when he rebids one notrump. If he is unable to carry on, there is no game.

5. Three hearts. We can't bid a game single-handed with this layout, since partner's bid is forced and he may be in desperate straits. This is not like Hand No. 3 where we could reasonably expect to make ten tricks.

All we can do here is urge partner to bid again, and that message is sent by a jump to three hearts. If North passes, it is unlikely that ten tricks will be made.

Dear Abby

Don't Go To Reno

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you want to do your readers a big favor, please print my story: I quit a wonderful job and flew to Reno, Nevada, to divorce my wife. I set up a six weeks' residency thinking that was all I needed. My wife flew to Reno to contest the divorce. I had to pay for her first-class jet fare and all her expenses. I have spent up in the thousands and still no divorce. Tell those who think it is easy to get a divorce in Reno to save their money and stay home unless they have an agreement before they go. J.J.

DEAR J. J.: Your story chokes me up. If more married people would spend as much money, time and energy on making their marriages work, as they do on trying to dissolve them, we could turn our divorce courts into bowling alleys.

DEAR ABBY: Your "OLD MAID" is asleep on her rights. There IS a National Old Maid's Day. It was founded in 1948 by Miss Marion Richards of Norristown, Pa. The official date is June 4th. The purpose of establishing Old Maid's Day was not to get "loot," as your correspondent suggested, but to honor less fortunate and unappreciated old maids. For instance, last year I entertained a group of maiden ladies from the County Home for dinner.

MISS M. W.

DEAR MISS M. W.: Lovely. Does anyone know if there's a Bachelor's Day? If so, perhaps these two groups could get together and entertain each other.

DEAR ABBY: Who said there ought to be a special day set aside to honor "old maids"? There are TWO such days. One is "Independence Day" and the other is "Thanksgiving." Sign me—OLD MAID

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column from a little boy, who couldn't understand why God didn't answer his prayers when he prayed so hard, reminded me of this wonderful story:

Tommy, a church-going, 7-year-old, told his playmate that he had been praying all year for a bicycle for Christmas. Christmas came and went and little Tommy did not receive the bicycle. His playmate asked, "Where is that bicycle you prayed for all year, Tommy? You told me that God answers all our prayers." Tommy thought a moment and then replied, "He answered mine. He said NO!"

Why Grow Old?

Eat To Stay Young

Josephine Lowman

I wonder how many women really seriously consider the importance of vital natural foods in the fight for prolonged youth and a lovely complexion?

For instance, there is always some vitamin loss in cooking. Therefore, it is a splendid plan to eat many fruits and vegetables uncooked. When these are fresh but well-ripened, they are delicious. Vitamin C, especially, is easily lost. The citrus fruits are the best sources of this vitamin. Cabbage and tomatoes also have a high content, but not so much as the citrus family.

When we eat raw fruits and vegetables, we get more variety since it is not practical to cook small amounts of large number of vegetables for one meal.

Today let me review the vitamins which play such an important part in health and appearance.

Vitamin A, which riots with abandon in the green and yellow vegetables, is felt to be beautifying to the complexion. It is the enemy of dry skin and a friend to the eyes.

Vitamin B does many things for us. The entire vitamin B family is called Vitamin B complex. Many experts feel that the greatest benefit is derived by taking the complex rather than the individual members of this family. Vitamin B is thought to be especially beneficial to the nervous system.

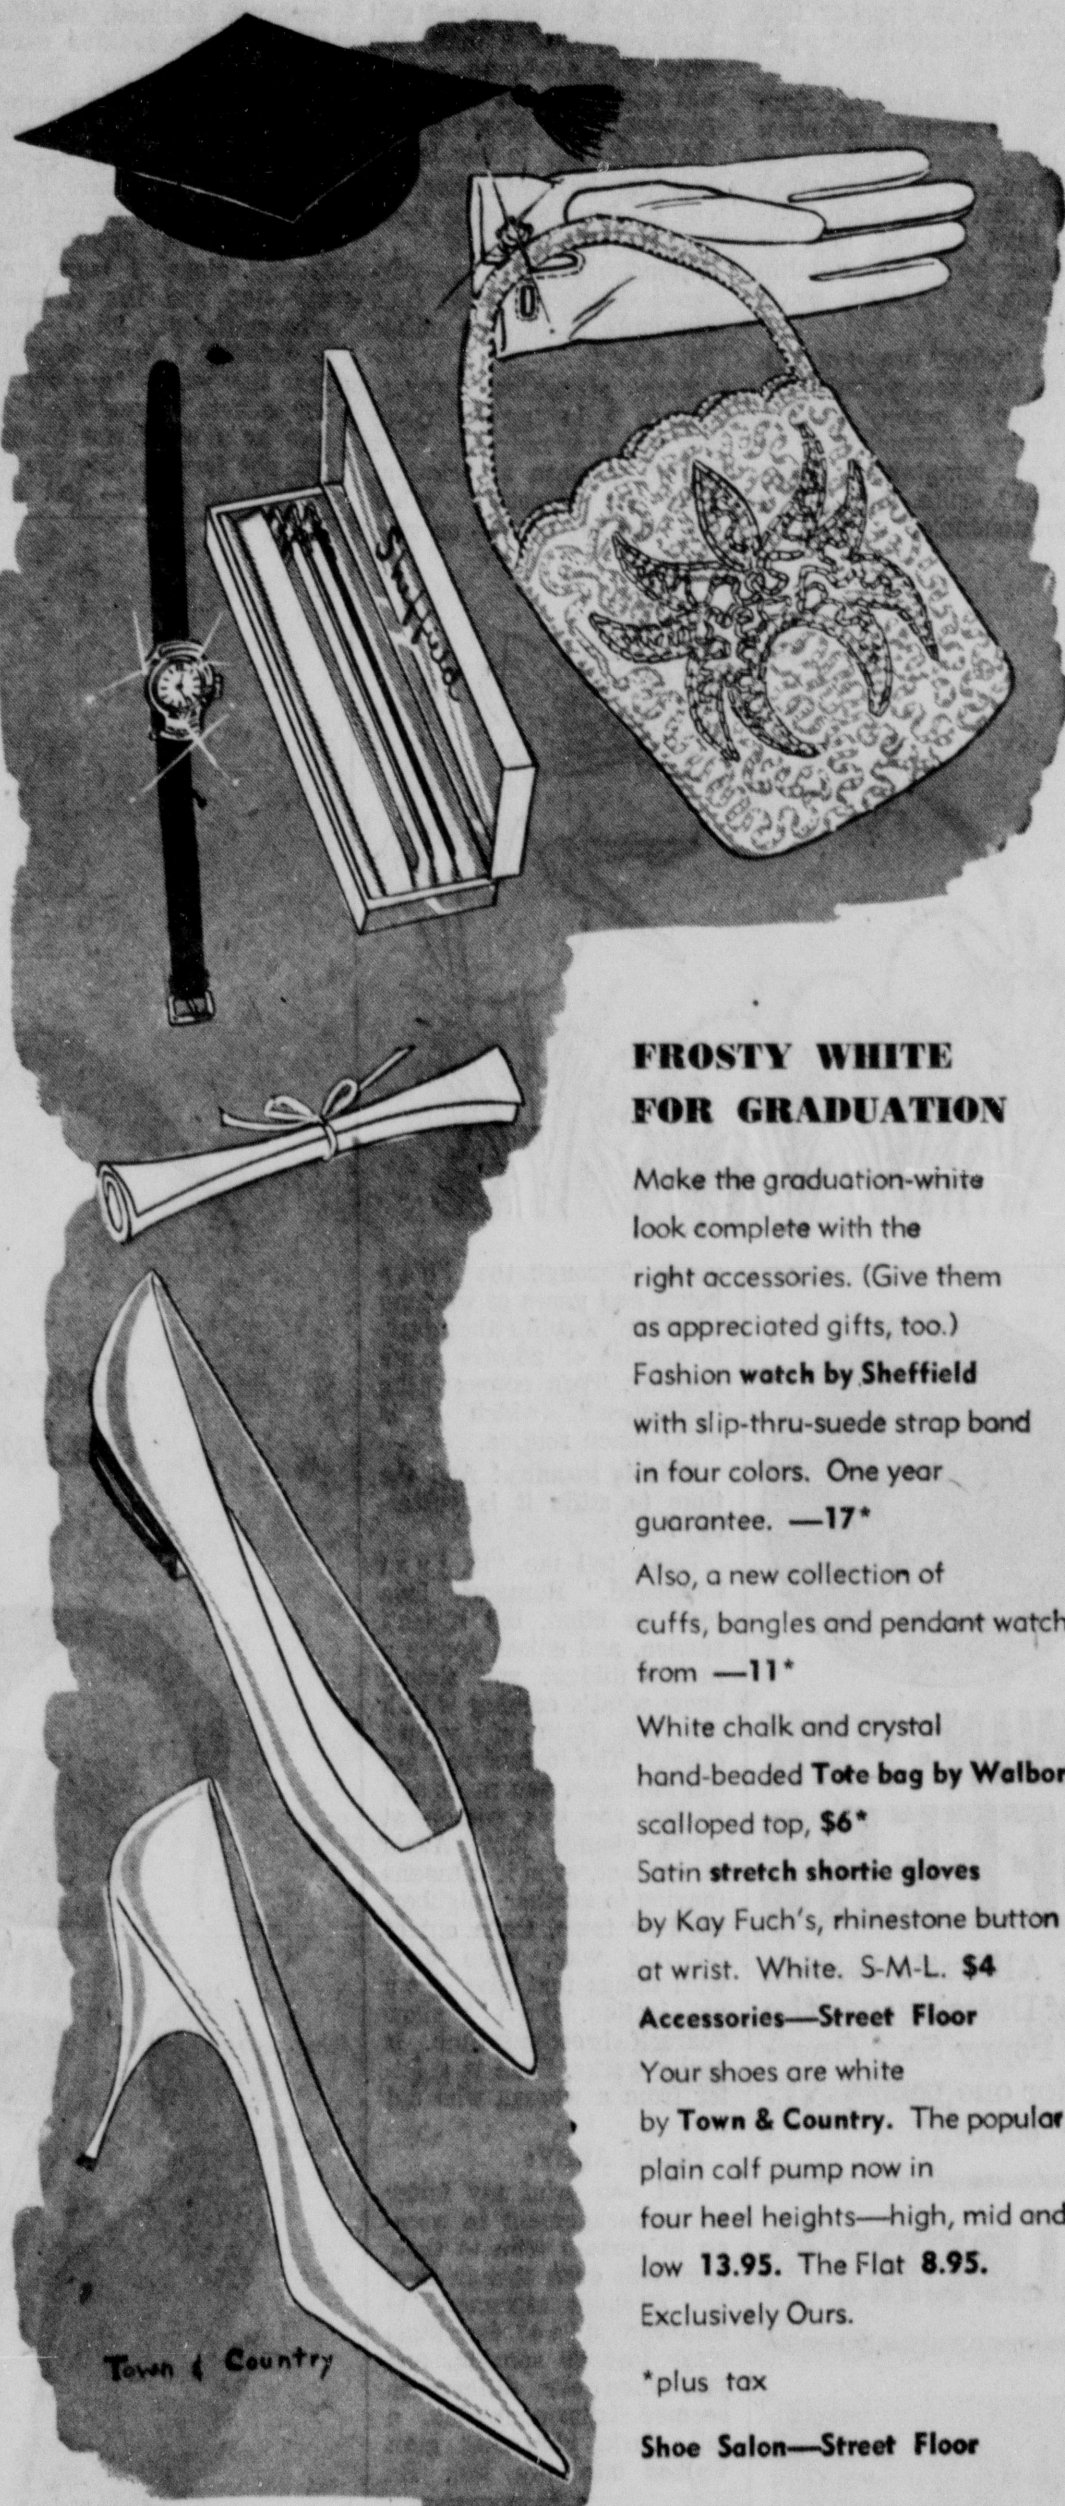

Vitamin C fights infection and seems to play some role in the health of the blood vessels.

Vitamin D is necessary for the utilization of calcium and phosphorus.

So if you want to look your best and feel your best, be sure that your vitamin intake is sufficient.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Nebr.

SALUTE TO THE GRADUATE!

ABBY ON MARRIAGE:

But A Man Is Like The Bee

What should a wife do when she catches her husband with contraband goodies?

The first thing she does not do is scream and chew up the scenery. Infidelity is a terrible blow to a wife's pride. First, dry those tears and take a hard look at whether he's been unfaithful with a "whom" or a "what."

The "what" brand of infidelity is a nonemotional involvement, merely an impulsive surrender to a passing temptation. Inexcusable? Quite. And also understandable.

What's this? How could he do such a thing and still love you? For a man, it's easy. For a woman, a sexual experience is a deeply personal, emotional thing that links her to her lover. But man is like the bee. He can go from flower to flower gathering "honeys" without attaching any personal significance to his bumbling flight. It's unfair but a fact.

Some attractions dangerous to a lasting marriage develop gradually and as a result of close association. Like the secretary who falls for her boss — or vice versa. Through the long hours and years of working together they'll either grow to despise or admire one another. Then comes the "harmless" (which it is not!) lunch routine.

This is insanity! And the time to stifle it is yesterday!

Don't tell me "it just happened." Romantic love may be blind, but it isn't sudden, and unless you're a mental midget you should know what's coming with the first flush of your cheeks. The instant you get the message, you must act. If you see this person at work, change jobs. Avoid all contact, even if it means moving to another neighborhood or town. Once out of charm's way, keep busy with things that give you satisfaction. Don't allow yourself brooding time. It really works. Here is a letter from a woman who did it:

DEAR ABBY:

Will you print my letter as encouragement to women to remain true to their husbands even though they are strongly attracted to someone else? Our marriage lost its sparkle, and just when our differences seemed insurmountable, a tall, dark, charming man walked into my life. He was everything my husband was not. Refined, exciting, talented. We seemed made for each other.

Knowing that two families were involved (he was married), and our reputations were at stake, I put up the struggle of my life. I told no one, fighting this feeling alone. I leaned on my God and His strength was sufficient, for I won. Eventually I was able to tear this man's face out of my heart. I now think of him as a wonderful friend, but not for me. My life is sometimes dull — but my conscience is clear. My promise to love, honor and cherish my husband until death do us part remains unbroken.

The Winner

If you're already a loser, just remember: you and your extracurricular beloved aren't the only two people on earth. Cutting paper dolls out of your marriage contract may fill you with passing excitement — but only at the risk of bringing pain to yourself and ultimately to others. Your infatuation may not last, but your remorse certainly will. Physical attrac-

Big Eight And State Prep Meets Highlight Activity-- RAC MAX THIS WEEKEND

Big Eight Assured Nip & Tuck Finish ... GOOD CHANCE FOR NU

Lincoln Star Special
Lawrence, Kan., — The 1962 Big Eight Indoor track and field championship was decided by a fraction of a point. The 34th Outdoor carnival here this weekend figures to be virtually as close with Oklahoma retaining its team title by a single point over Nebraska.

That's the tale of the pre-meet form chart as the league's spiked-shoe aces move into Lawrence for the first time since 1955. Bill Carroll's Sooners are accorded 100 points, one more than the total they harvested last year in snapping a nine-year Kansas reign at Boulder, Nebraska, edged by the Jayhawkers, 53 1/2-52 1-3 for the indoor title last March, is down for 99.

This means, of course, that the meet can turn in any one of a dozen ways, one pulled muscle, one dropped baton, one tie for a spot far down in the jumps, a sudden individual foldup or an unexpected come-thru. If the chart is accurate, it will be the tightest finish since the modern conference was founded in 1929. Nebraska edged Missouri, 61 1/2-60, in 1941.

Preliminary warring will be intensified since the Jayhawk oval contains only six lanes. This means every qualifier in the 100, 220, 440, both hurdles flights, and 440 relay, is assured of scoring under the 10-8-6-4-2-1 point system inaugurated in 1947.

Begins At 3:00
The curtain goes up in these trials, plus the 880, Shot Put, Discus, Javelin, and Broad Jump, at 3 p.m. Friday. Saturday's finals open with the Pole Vault at 1 p.m.

So fierce is the competition all along the line that record-shattering is expected to approach that of 1959 at Norman, when 10 standards went down and another was tied. Seven meet marks have been surpassed in the early spring trials, an eighth, tied.

Seven defending champions and one set of co-champions, OU's Mark Brady and Oklahoma State's Don Blakley, in the High Jump, return.

If the Huskers are to win, they must sandbag the Sooners on the track even more heavily than the 93-55 margin they are accorded on the form chart. This means even more production than the scheduled 36 hurdles points from their great trio of Bill Fasano, Ron Moore and Fred Wilkie, an increase in the 25 allotted to sprinters Ray Knaub and Don Deagan and a double distance victory by Mike Fleming over Kansas' study captain, Bill Dotson.

Need To Improve
Meanwhile, the Sooners cannot afford to repeat any part of their indoor collapse, which saw them stagger home 5th after being forecast in the title reckoning.

NU can expect little more in the field than Victor Brooks' expected third-place finish in the Broad Jump, with six points. Only other potentials are Brooks' stablemate, Rudy Johnson, and Pole-Vaulter Juris Jesifurs, who was fifth Indoors.

Kansas, which hasn't finished as low as third since '51, Missouri, and Colorado will battle for the remaining two first division berths.

Records Probable
Dotson has bettered the existing 4:06.2 Mile record with flights of 4:04.3 and 4:03.7 this spring. He also has run under the 9:04.8 Two-Mile mark at 9:01.1. Knaub has blazed two-tenths under the one-turn 220 mark at :20.7. He, and Oklahoma Olympian Anthony Watson have matched the :09.4 century standard. Watson also has leaped three inches beyond the 25-3/4 Broad Jump listing.

Brady lifted 6-8 1/2, highest leap in conference history, against Kansas last Saturday, to surpass the present 6-8 1/2 High Jump figure. Oklahoma, at 40.7, is three-tenths under the 41.0 Quarter-mile relay mark.
Three teams, Colorado at 3:10, Oklahoma State, 3:10.2, and Missouri 3:10.4, have bettered the 3:10.5 Mile relay record.

—HASTINGS RUNNERS SHARP— Records Fall In NCC At Doane

HOW THEY SCORED

Kearney	68	13
Wayne	31	4
Wesleyan	31	4
Hastings	20	8
Doane	12	2
Peru	2	2

Crete — It was something like a supporting actor stealing the show from the star then looking up to find that his name was still in smaller letters on the billboard, as the Nebraska College Conference track meet opened here Thursday.

Hastings runners put on a dazzling exhibition while setting 3 new NCC records and equalling a 4th, only to find Kearney—as usual—holding a comfortable lead in the team race.

Eldon Kieborz of Hastings rewrote two records. The little senior bettered the 14.8 high hurdles mark with a 14.7 in qualifying, then came back to tie the 220-low hurdle standard of 25.0.

Versatile Jack Osborne broke his own broad jump record with a leap of 23-4 1/2 and Bronco sprinted Tom Wright ran the 100 in 9.8 for another new mark.

Wright, who finished a badly beaten 5th in the 440 dash prelims, came right back to beat Doane ace Clinton Skinner in the century. His 9.8 clocking was 1-10 of a second below the record that has stood repeated challenges for 12 years.

While Hastings was drawing the crowds raves Kearney methodically began to fashion an insurmountable team lead.

The Antelopes had just one record breaker but managed to capture 4 first places, tie for another gold medal, and finish second in the 6th in the only events finished Thursday.

Massive Francis Hircok, the giant Kearney shotputter, eclipsed Jim Jacobs' weight standard with a throw of 54-7.

The ballyhooed Kearney two-mile relay team got a 1:55 opening leg from Hylke Van der Wal, but still failed to break the record they set last year. The Antelopes finished 70 yards ahead of the field in a slow 7:59.9.

Hastings again saw disaster strike in the 880-yard relay. The Broncos were fighting Kearney for first place when Jack Osborne and Dew-

POINT BLANK

Sports Editor, The Star

Still Waiting

Big track and field stars will commence an assault on the record book at Lawrence, Kan., today.
There are a tremendous number of fine athletes who can — and probably will — establish new marks in some events.

If anyone snaps a world record, I hope he has better luck getting it validated than has George Davies, former Oklahoma State pole vaulter now soaring for Arizona State.

It was just a year ago at Boulder, Colo., that Davies set the vault world on its ear.
I count Davies' performance that day as one of my all-time sports thrills.

Drama Needed

While Oklahoma had finally dethroned Kansas as outdoor champion, the meet was minus drama until the final event. But Davies took care of that in spine-tingling fashion.

The lithe Cowboy crept higher and higher, leaving the field behind, until he magnificently hurled himself over the bar at 15-10 1/4.

Fans, athletes and sports writers were cheering when he hit the pit. But that moment of noise and confusion was nothing compared to the hectic hour that followed.

Most of us knew that the world record was 15-9 1/4 and belonged to Don Bragg. So it became obvious that Davies had achieved a new world mark. He might even become the first to clear 16 feet, we speculated.

But George never had a chance to increase his fame. Officials had to accurately measure the bar (the official height was adjusted down a half inch) and that required boards, levels, digging and much jawing.

Then the ladder was too short and wobbly. And to top it off, the standards wouldn't go high enough to enable Davies to try for 16 feet. They had to be propped up.

Long Delay

Finally, long after the winning jump and new world record, all was in readiness. Unfortunately, Davies had long since cooled off and his ailing leg couldn't come back. He tried twice at 16-plus and after the second miss, Coach Ralph Higgins hollered, "That's all — c'mon," and the meet was over.

Davies had added tremendous and unexpected glamor to the 1961 Big 8 meet. And he also propelled himself to the No. 1 spot in world vaulting.

However, a year later Don Bragg is still the world record holder with 15-9 1/4. Davies' sensational effort has yet to be recognized by the brass hats who rule the track archives.

Meanwhile, the 16-foot barrier has been cracked — but still Bragg is the official kingpin of the vaulters.

Feet-Dragers

Why has Davies' record vault been ignored for a year? It's simple. The old codgers who dictate track's destiny are steeped in tradition and refuse to admit that "progress" has a proper place in the dictionary.

They are wary of granting credence to the fibreglass pole, of all things. A host of new marks were granted last winter, but Davies was by-passed in favor of further consideration.

The 16-footers may never get a call since they, too, vaulted with fibreglass. So the chaps who have trouble hoisting themselves up on a bar stool during international romps, continue to fuss and fume — and do nothing about fine vaulters who continue to prove themselves better athletes than Bragg.

It makes no difference that scientific studies — which shouldn't be needed in the first place — prove you still have to be an athlete to vault 16 feet, regardless of what kind of pole is used. These virtue guardians must continue their archaic deliberations, despite countless other track and field improvements.

It's entirely possible that Davies will be by-passed completely, with the matter standing open until some Russian clears 17 feet in rocket shoes. Then the purists in the back room will get busy and rule, "Boys will be boys" — and approve the record.

Whether or not Davies is ever credited with his rightful record, he still rates as a champion in my book — just as do the current 16-footers.

And like I said, if someone breaks a world record at Lawrence today or tomorrow, I hope he's wearing the right type of shorts. Vaulter George Davies will testify that the record committee is a mite fussy these days.

60th Prep Show Threatens Marks ... CLASS A RACE TIGHT

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

A most interesting State High School Track Meet gets under way today at Nebraska's Memorial Stadium.

The 60th annual track and field championships begin at 10 p.m. with Class B pole vaulters the first of 907 athletes to perform in the two-day carnival.

Most of today's show will be concerned with determining qualifiers for Saturday's running event finals. The only running final today is the 880-yard run at 2:20 p.m.

The halfmile may be the first event to produce a state record, a happening expected to occur at least 4 or 5 times.

Wolstenholm Threatens
Kearney's Jim Wolstenholm is the threat to the 880 mark of 1:57.0 set last year by Alliance's Jim Kettelhut.

The blonde Kearney senior has gone 1:57.3.

Other possible record breakers in the 4-class field which should produce close team races are:

—Omaha Central's Terry Williams, Negro flyer who qualified under the state record in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

—Grand Island's Jim Beltzer, whose shotputting and discus throwing are the best any combined weightman has ever done.

—Maywood's Warren Christensen, small school miler with his eyes set on a 4-lap run better than the state mark of 4:26.2.

—Omaha Central's mile relay team, which has Williams and a top 440 threat Mel Wade.

—Omaha Tech's quarter-mile quartet.

—Beatrice's two-mile relay team which ran 5 seconds faster than the state mark in the qualifying district meet.

In the scrap for team honors, Class A apparently is the best matched. Grand Island, Tech, Scottsbluff, and maybe Omaha Central have rosters filled with state meet points.

Other class favorites are Gothenburg in Class B, Wyomere and O'Neill, C; DeWitt and Harrisburg, Class D.

Defending champions are Omaha Central, Broken Bow, David City St. Mary's, and Fairfield.

Returning Medalists

Returning gold medalists number just two. Beltzer copped the shot prize last year with a 52-11 1/4 heave — nearly 7 feet below his best this spring — and Deshler's Roy Windhorst was the all-class discus winner.

Beltzer apparently has whipped an illness which has kept the GI strongboy off form for over two weeks. Coach Ralph Moerer has said Beltzer had regained his strength and appears ready for a slam at the weight gold medals.

He'll draw an argument in the discus from St. Edward's Lynn Haselbalch, whose 167-1 throw is the state best and nearly 1 1/2 feet better than Beltzer's best.

Grand Island's hopes rest with Beltzer and two buddies in each weight event, sprinter Tom Millsap hurdler Darryl Roberts and quarter-miler Bob Brouhard.

Tech's main asset is its 880 relay team and 100-low hurdle-broad jump man Fred Farthing, a veteran of 3 state meets. Tech also has 440 challenger Claude Spencer, another hurdler in Jim Wallace and a mile relay team.

Scottsbluff doesn't appear to have a winner, unless in pole vaulter Jack Ehler, but may pile up points in most events.

326 American Legion Teams Enter Class A & B Program

... Tournament Site Undecided

Three hundred twenty six teams have entered the 1962 American Legion Baseball Program in Nebraska, according to Legion Activities Director Ray Oltman. The total is made up of 260 Class B and 66 Class A Junior and Midget teams, the Legion announced. The program will involve some 5,216 Nebraska boys ages 14 thru 18.

Class B Junior and Midget teams have been placed in leagues with other teams in their locale. They will begin the season on June 3 with all teams eligible to enter tournament play beginning July 29.

A total of 36 tournaments will be completed before the Class B Junior and Class B Midget State Champs are named.

The 66 Class A Junior and Midget teams will begin league play about June 1st. For the most part Class A Junior teams will compete against other Nebraska teams, but some teams have scheduled games as far south as Oklahoma and as far north as Montana.

Schedules being publicized show Class A Junior teams playing from 24 to 40 games between now and tournament time.

Following district and area play-offs the winning six

Class A teams in the state will enter the State Tournament on August 5, competing for a berth in national competition.

Tournament sites for both Class A and B, Junior and Midget, will be selected by the Legion State Athletic Committee at their meeting on June 17. The meeting will be held in Lincoln at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Former Card Director Appeals Wife's Will

Chicago (AP) — Walter H. Wolfner said Thursday during a probate court hearing that he has lost his job as managing director of the St. Louis Cardinals football team, in which his late wife owned majority stock.

Wolfner's petition for letters of administration to collect the $3 million estate of Mrs. Violet Bidwill Wolfner was rejected by Judge Robert J. Dunne.

Judge Dunne ordered Mrs. Wolfner's will, challenged by her husband, admitted to probate. Wolfner filed notice of appeal and a bond of $5,000 was set.

The will leaves the bulk of her estate to two adopted sons, Charles Bidwill Jr., 33, and William V. Bidwill, 30. Wolfner's motion that the heirs be disqualified asserted that they were adopted improperly. Charles Jr. was named executor in the will.

Chargers, Lowe Reach Contract

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League and halfback Paul Lowe agreed on a new contract Thursday, ending reports he might move to Detroit of the National Football League next year.

Lowe signed a 2-year contract with the Chargers, with an option to terminate after a 3rd year.

Sid Gillman, Chargers general manager and head coach, said Lowe was given a slight pay raise. He called it a "fair contract, commensurate with his ability."

Most professional football contracts are for one year, with a second termination year optional.

Pacific Mentor Denies Bribe Offer Knowledge

Stockton, Calif. (AP) — Van Sweet, University of the Pacific basketball coach, Thursday reiterated that University officials knew nothing of bribe offers to basketball players as related by Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan.

Sweet said the matter came up a year ago when the names of Gary Kaufman and Leroy Wright were mentioned.

Wright, 25, a forward from Mount Vernon, N.Y., already had been graduated.

Cash Loans

$25 to $1,500. For vacations, to pay bills, shopping, other needs.

Coach Resigns

Edmonton (AP) — Dan Edwards, assistant coach of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference, announced his retirement.

Belinsky Chased By Oriole Sluggers, 6-4

... HANDED FIRST LOSS

Baltimore (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles chased Bo Belinsky under a barrage of extra base hits Thursday night and handed their no-hit conqueror of May 5 a 6-4 setback.

The colorful rookie southpaw, who entered the game with a 5-0 record, failed to last the 3rd inning and was charged with all of Baltimore's runs.

A walk to Gus Triandos and back-to-back home runs by rookie John Boog Powell and Jack Brant gave Baltimore 3 runs in the second inning.

Doubles by Jerry Adair and Triandos scored another Oriole run in the third.

Then after Belinsky walked Powell he was replaced by Dean Chance. Brant promptly doubled home two more runs.

That was the final Baltimore hit off Chance and 3 other Los Angeles relief pitchers.

The Angels, who outthit the Orioles 12-5, scored one run off winner Art Quirk in the second on a double by Steve Bilko and a single by Felix Torres.

Quirk was replaced in the 7th after a walk to Torres and a double by Gordon Windhorn. Torres then scored on a passed ball.

Los Angeles tallied two more runs in the 9th off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm on a walk, singles by Bill Moran and Bob Rodgers, and an infield out.

Chargers, Lowe Reach Contract

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League and halfback Paul Lowe agreed on a new contract Thursday, ending reports he might move to Detroit of the National Football League next year.

Lowe signed a 2-year contract with the Chargers, with an option to terminate after a 3rd year.

Sid Gillman, Chargers general manager and head coach, said Lowe was given a slight pay raise. He called it a "fair contract, commensurate with his ability."

Most professional football contracts are for one year, with a second termination year optional.

Lincoln Puts In Bid For Legion Tourney

The American Legion State Baseball Tournament has never been held in Lincoln, due to the lack of proper facilities for such a tournament, but this year the Legionnaires of Lincoln are putting in their bid to host the state finals.

The loss of professional baseball in Lincoln was a blow to all sports fans of Lincoln but it did provide a break for Lincoln youth playing in the Legion baseball program.

Given permission to use Sherman Field, they now have available a field qualified for hosting any Legion tournament, including the state finals.

Big 5 Accepts Offer For Rose Bowl Pact

Lafayette, Ind. (AP) — The Big 5 Conference accepted a bid to renew Rose Bowl relations with the Big 10 Thursday by submitting a proposed contract for renewal of the Pasadena football series.

Commissioner Bill Reed of the Big 10 submitted the contract to a joint group of Big 10 faculty representatives and athletic directors, as the conference's spring meeting began.

At the same time, the policy making faculty representatives and the directors formally suspended a Conference progressive football schedule which would have resulted in a full round-robin schedule by 1969.

The action thus set a minimum of 7 Conference games within an over-all 10-game framework, now effective in the already drafted 1965-66 schedule and to be followed with the 1967-68 card now being drafted at this meeting.

Saperstein Says Lucas Will 'Establish' ABL

Chicago (AP) — Abe Saperstein, commissioner of the American Basketball League, said Thursday the signing of Jerry Lucas by the Cleveland Pipers will establish the one-year-old ABL in professional sports.

He said the ABL style of play is "made to order" for Lucas and predicted the Ohio State University star will go to even greater heights in pro competition.

U.S. Business Determined To Share Common Market's Growth-Kennedy

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy said Thursday night "American business is determined to share in the phenomenal growth of the European Common Market" through expanded international trade.

In a speech at a bipartisan conference in support of his trade program, the President offered reassurance to businesses which may be hurt by increased imports but added: "But let us not miss the real point: let us not so focus on the insurance policies that we forget the positive, new opportunities that will be opened up by trade. To falter now — to become afraid of the economic challenges we face, or to become impatient in the face of difficult and delicate diplomatic problems — could well undo all the great achievements of this nation in the postwar period."

Reiterated Views

In his talk to about 2,000 supporters of his trade program, at the Conference on Trade Policy, Kennedy reiterated his views on long-range U.S. relations with Europe along lines set forth at his news conference earlier in the day, to wit:

The United States is in Europe to stay — at least until Europeans ask this nation to leave.

He described as folly any fears that the United States may be excluded from the councils and markets of the Atlantic partnership or that the United States may abandon its commitment to European security.

Won Victory

Kennedy's effort to bolster support for pending legislation which would give him wide tariff-cutting powers came at the end of a day which saw him win an important victory in the House Ways and Means Committee. By a one-vote margin, this group approved Kennedy's recommendations for benefits to workers who are adversely affected by increased imports under his program. This was the last major controversial hurdle to be cleared by the legislation in the House committee.

House leaders expect to call the bill up for action early next month and the Senate will act later.

What Democrats regard as an encouraging sign in the developing drive for Kennedy's over-all trade program came Thursday in the Senate.

Party Lines

Holding party lines firmly, the administration won passage of a bill to give the President authority to curb imports of cotton textiles from the countries which are not parties to the international cotton export-import agreement reached at Geneva by 19 nations.

Passage came on an 81-3 count but Democratic leaders were especially encouraged by a 62-23 roll call which turned back a Republican effort to win like protection for producers of meat, dairy and timber products.

Comrade Delivers Moving Appeal For Ex-Gen. Salan

By HARVEY HUDSON
Paris (AP) — A former battlefield comrade brought a moving appeal, suggesting pardon, into the treason trial of ex-Gen. Raoul Salan Thursday. Salan wept.

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, former allied commander for Central Europe, called for understanding and humility in judging Salan — captured leader of the terrorist European Secret Army Organization in Algeria.

"If today some are killing with blood-stained folly," said Valluy, "perhaps it is because they were being killed. I believe that a gesture, a plea from the heart would be an element of appeasement... I believe that the people should be given proof of meekness. Others have been pardoned."

Expect Death
Gen. Valluy, now retired, spoke as a defense witness at the stormy third day of Salan's treason trial before the special high military court. It is generally expected that the court will sentence Salan to death for his part in the April 1961, General's Revolt in Algiers, and as the Secret Army leader.

An old comrade in arms of Salan, Gen. Valluy looked at the defendant and said:

"It is with a kind of shame, which I cannot express, that I wonder how he arrived there, how we all arrived where we are."

"Shock... a feeling of frustration... bitterness" over the prospect of Algerian independence — these, he said, had driven Salan to sedition.

Shake Hands

Tears rolled down Salan's cheek as Valluy stopped at the prisoner's box to shake hands as he left the court.

Angry clashes earlier between prosecution and defense attorneys threw the court into turmoil.

The defense claimed there was a conflict between the testimony of Jean Morin, former government delegate-general in Algeria, and Gen. Charles Ailleret, former military commander in Algeria, on the question of special police sent to Algeria.

Face To Face

Jean-Louis Tixier-Vagnan-court, head of the defense battery of attorneys, wanted Morin and Ailleret to appear face to face for questioning.

"You are on a fishing expedition. You are having fun," cried prosecutor Andre Galvada. It's almost a scandal. You are outside the law."

Defense Attorney Bernard Le Coroller shouted back, "you don't want justice. You are against shedding light on the events."

Court President Charles Bornet finally restored order and warned, "the trial cannot continue in this feverish atmosphere. It would be a carnival."

PRINCESS RIDES CYCLE

Lord Snowdon was at the controls and Princess Margaret was the passenger when this picture was taken recently near Bath, England. Scene was on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Jermy Fry, friends with whom the Princess and her husband were staying. Her hiked skirt is causing a considerable stir in the United Kingdom.

Tombstone Topplers Are Sought At Mead

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Mead — Reward posters went up Thursday, seeking information about the toppling of 20 headstones by vandals at the nearby Lutheran Church Cemetery.

Ten dollars await each usable tip.

"This is the most rotten trick that's ever been played around here," said one of the town's 388 angry citizens.

The "trick" caused more than $4,000 damage, according to Saunders County Sheriff Charles Sayers, who pointed out:

"The headstones were heavy, indicating that more than two or three young people were involved in the damage."

Several of the fallen markers weighed more than 400 pounds and most will have to be raised again by a monument company.

"These kids just rocked them until they fell over," Sayers noted.

The irked sheriff added: "It's too bad these youngsters didn't use the energy for something good."

Most of the community's members have volunteered their services in repairing the cemetery for Memorial Day.

Sub's Chief Loses Post; In Collision

Vallejo, Calif. (AP) — The skipper of the new nuclear-powered submarine Permit, damaged in a collision with a freighter off the Golden Gate May 9, has been relieved of his command, the Navy disclosed.

The officer, Cmdr. Ernest R. Barrett, was relieved as of Thursday.

The new commander will be Cmdr. Robert H. Blount, USN, currently on duty with the Navy in Washington, D. C. the 12th Naval District said he might arrive before the Permit is commissioned at Mare Island on May 29.

Meanwhile, Lt. Cmdr. C. F. Carlisle, commander of the submarine Swordfish, now at Mare Island for overhaul, has been assigned as temporary commander.

The Permit, running submerged in pre-commissioning trials 30 miles off the Golden Gate about 11 p.m., May 9, scraped the bottom of the Matson freighter Hawaiian Citizen. Both vessels were damaged.

The Navy conducted its own investigation of the collision and refused to let any of its officers or men testify at a Coast Guard inquiry last week.

Neither the Navy nor Coast Guard has reported the results of its inquiry.

Expert Says Hallam Tests, Operations Safe

Washington (AP) — Experiments with sodium coolant and low-power operation of Nebraska's nuclear reactor can be conducted safely, an Atomic Energy Commission examiner was told Thursday.

The testimony, before Examiner Samuel W. Jensch, was presented at a hearing to consider authorization of the tests and operation up to 15% of the Hallam reactor's full-rated power of 75,000 kilowatts.

2 Salt Creek Dam Services Set May 30

Memorial ground-breaking ceremonies are slated for two of the 12 Salt Creek Basin dams.

May 30th ground-breaking is slated by the Army Corps of Engineers at Dam 8 two miles east of Hickman at 2 p.m. and at Dam 4 two miles west of Sprague at 3:30 p.m.

Otto H. Liebers, president of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District, will act as masters of ceremonies at both. Announcement of speakers and programs for the events will be made later.

Kenneth Weaver, vice president of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District and chairman of the committee in charge of ground-breaking ceremonies, said the events will stress the contributions made by local residents.

reactor can be turned over to Consumers early next year.

Atomics International operated the plant during earlier tests and would continue in this capacity during proposed operations. AEC's regulatory staff said in statements the Hallam plant can be operated safely during these testing functions.

Ready By '63

After tests with the coolant, Owens said, the reactor power would be raised gradually up to the 15% level. Owens said he is hopeful the
